Uniform in its Performances.
Simplicity and precision are the great requisites in a sewing machine. Let a machine be ever so perfect in point of construction, if it is complicated, or difficult to understand, it is liable to get out of order, simply because everybody cannot claim mechanical ideas, and it requires a mechanic to keep such a machine in order. The Elliptic Lock Stitch Machine is the simplest machine in the market. It will do more work—that is to say, it will sew a range of work greater than any other machine in the market, and is uniform in its performances. It is reliable, the one great desideratum in a sewing machine. Salesroom of the Elliptic No. 17 Fifth avenue, second story.

Humboldt and Ex-President Fillmore.

Ex-President Fillmore was one of the speakers at the Humboldt celebration in Buffalo, and told how he met Humboldt in Berlin, in 1855. He said: When I arrived in Berlin, I inquired if Baron Humboldt had a residence there, and was informed that he had, and I sent my courier with my letter of introduction and address, inquiring when it would be convenient to receive a call from me; but my messenger returned with information that the Baron was at Potsdam, eighteen miles distant, and I concluded that I should not see him until I visited Potsdam, but to my surprise, just as I had finished my breakfast the next morning, Baron Humboldt was announced. My letter and address had been sent to him the evening before, and he came down purposely to meet me, and he received me with a cordiality that put me entirely at my ease. He was then eighty-six years old, tall and stoutly built, with a strongly marked German countenance, his hair white and thin, slightly stooping in his shoulders, with his chin nearly resting upon his bosom as he stood, but of a most benign and venerable aspect and commanding dignity. Finally, the portrait which hangs there, painted by Mr. Selsted, is a very good likeness.

Although he spoke the English language, yet it was with some difficulty that I could understand him, as he spoke with an accent, and the loss of his teeth had evidently impaired his power of enunciation. After a short conversation, learning that I had just arrived in the city, he proposed at once to accompany me to see the chief objects of interests, and in spite of my protestations that I could not ask such a favor, he spent most of the day in showing me about the city and pointing out the chief curiosities. You may well conclude that for a man of his age he was very active, and he seemed to take as much interest in everything as though he was but fifty, and was looking at them for the first time. Some few days after I returned his call and found him occupying rooms assigned him by the King in one of his palaces at Potsdam, and he was engaged in reading the last proofs of his "Kosmos." I asked him if it had been translated into English as far as completed, and he said it had. I inquired if he had seen the translation, and he said he had, and that it was very good. Though sitting by a table, I observed that when he wrote he wrote upon his knee, and as I remarked the singularity, he said that he had been compelled so much of his life to use his knee for a writing table that the habit had rendered it natural and easy. He spoke with interest of his journey through the United States in 1804, and of his visit to President Jefferson.

The room which he occupied was evidently his workshop. It was filled with books and maps, and such natural curiosities as he had collected during a long life; and many of them were very rare and curious. Indeed, it was a perfect museum for the man of science, and he kindly drew my attention to objects of the greatest interest.

I afterward met him at a dinner party given by the King at the Palace of Sans Souci, where the chief diplomats and nobles were assembled, and I was struck with the deference that was paid him, not only by the King and Queen, but by all present. He was, indeed, an extraordinary man, and I never expect to look upon his like again.

Solar Influence.

Captain Ericsson desires us to remind the Detroit Post that his communication to the National Academy of Sciences related only to solar heat. Our contemporary has apparently overlooked the very title of Captain Ericsson's essay, which is, Constancy of Rotation of the Earth Incompatible with Solar Influence. At the same time, Captain Ericsson by no means admits the proposition of the Detroit Post that volcanic eruptions tend to retard the earth's rotation to any great extent. He says:

"Sir Charles Lyell, in his Principles of Geology, says: 'The most voluminous current of lava which has flowed from Etna within historic times was that of 1669. Ferrara, after correcting Borelli's estimate, calculated the quantity of cubic yards of lava in this current at 140,000,000. Now, this would not equal in bulk one-fifth of the sedimentary matter which is carried down in a single year by the Ganges past Ghazepoor; so that it would require five grand eruptions of Etna to transfer a mass of lava from the subterranean regions to the surface equal in volume to the mud carried down in one year to that place.'

"The tables accompanying the essay presented to the National Academy of Sciences, show that the mud carried from the basin of the Mississippi to the Gulf of Mexico amounts to 7,474 millions of cubic feet in one year, very nearly twice the quantity of lava emitted during the eruption of Etna mentioned by Sir Charles Lyell. The tables also show that the center of the basin of the Mississippi is 2,461,000 feet nearer the axis of the earth than the mouth of the river, and that the mud which at the center of the basin moves at a rate of 1,148 feet per second round the axis, has acquired a rate of 1,327 feet per second when discharged into the Gulf. This great increase of circumferential velocity of 179 feet per second imparted to the enormous mass of matter transferred, the reader will readily understand, must tend to retard the rotary motion of the earth. On the same ground the lava emitted by a volcano and removed to a greater distance from the axis during the eruption, moves with an increased circumferential velocity, and accordingly causes retardation of the earth's axial rotation. But this increase of circumferential velocity imparted to volcanic matter is a mere fraction compared with that of mud carried from river basins toward the equator. Let us assume that volcanic matter is elevated on an average 3,000 feet, by far too large an allowance, since subsidence at some point must follow eruption. I do not propose, however, to detain your readers by a demonstration showing that subsidence of matter—in other words, the approach toward the axis of the earth—actually tends to increase the earth's rotary motion. Leaving out of sight this cause of partial restoration of vis viva, and allowing that the volcanic matter is being elevated 3,000 feet, let us see what the effect will be as compared with the transfer of river mud toward the equator, say that of the Mississippi. The tables referred to show that the matter carried from the center of the basin of that river recedes from the earth's axis 2,461,000 feet during the transit to the outlet, viz., eight hundred and twenty-four times the average elevation of volcanic matter. This great difference affords, however, but an imperfect idea of the greater retarding effect attending the transit of the Mississippi mud compared with that of the elevation of volcanic matter. The base of Mount Etna, latitude 37° 47', is 16,508,388 feet distant from the earth's axis, and hence has a circumferential velocity of 1,200.47 feet per second. A point 3,000 feet above the base, or 16,511,388 feet from the axis of rotation, moves accordingly at a rate of 1,200.68 feet per second."

Back Assessments on Iron Manufacturers

Decision Against the Iron Manufacturers—The Louisville Postoffice—Important Whisky Cases.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.
WASHINGTON, D. C., September 17, 1869.

The Louisville Postoffice.
Several new candidates have arrived for the Louisville Postoffice, and for a number of internal revenue offices.

Whisky Cases.
Half a dozen attorneys in heavy Kentucky whisky cases are also here, as are several representatives of whisky cases in St. Louis, Philadelphia and Cincinnati. In spite of denials, offers have been made through attorneys to compromise the Mobile and Cincinnati whisky case, and the offer was refused.

Discharged.
A. G. Sterritt, arrested here a few days since charged with having been concerned with presenting forged paper to the Treasury, and with bringing persons here from Chicago under false pretences, was discharged to-day. Sterritt comes from Louisville.

Important to Iron Manufacturers.
Judge Spalding, of Ohio, has been here several days in behalf of the Cleveland rolling mills, in connection with the attorney of Dilworth, Porter & Co., Pittsburgh, protesting against the payment of heavy back assessments as manufacturers of pig iron. The claim of these companies is, that as they take their own ore and work it directly into plate, that they are not liable to the tax imposed on the production of iron. The payment of a large sum in the case has been suspended for a long time, and the Department is now pressing for payment. It is understood that the case will be decided against the iron merchants. Upon the decision of this case depends a number of similar ones east and west.

Misuse of Funds.
There is much excitement in City Hall circles here. An attempt was made to keep all the evidence before the committee investigating the alleged misuse of funds by city officials secret, but the Republican published it. Upon this a vigorous effort was made to discredit the reports. The testimony of Mr. Bliss, City Surveyor, which as given was of a very damaging character to himself and his associates, was persistently asserted to be inaccurately reported. The last step in the case has been to prevent clear proof that the published report was correct, to have the official copy of Bliss's evidence stolen from the private residence of the shorthand reporter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 17, 1869.

THE ARMY.

By direction of the Secretary of War, Brevet Brigadier Gen. Thomas M. Vincent, Assistant Adjutant General, will proceed to Springfield, Illinois, and Chicago, Illinois, under instructions from Adjutant General of the Army, and return to his station here on the completion of this duty. Brevet Lieutenant Colonel H. Reeves is relieved from duty in the Freedmen's Bureau, and ordered to proceed to his home.

GOLD IN THE TREASURY.

The amount of available coin in the United States Treasury was $102,832,348 40, including $21,355,040 in gold certificates outstanding on the 14th inst. The coin, with the exception of about $4,000,000, is at the Sub-Treasury in New York.

THE COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK

Of Cincinnati has withdrawn the bonds deposited to secure its circulation, and substituted legal tender notes, under the provisions of the forty-second section of the national currency act.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 17, 1869.

ARRIVED.

The steamer Allemania, from Hamburg, arrived last night.

YELLOW FEVER.

The French corvette Metrels arrived this morning at Quarantine from Port au Prince. She reports ten deaths from yellow fever since the last of June, the last death from that disease was on the 5th of September. She has one man sick at present.

TERRIBLE FAMILY FIGHT.

Frederick Brauzert fatally stabbed his two sons, John and Frederick, last evening in the town of Union, N. J., during a family fight. He was arrested. He attempted to cut his own throat, but failed.

SECRETARY BOUTWELL

Was engaged this morning with Collector Grinnell and others. Thurlow Weed called to pay his respects. The audience with the merchants did not take place, as the Secretary was obliged to return to Washington.

WOOLEN MILL BURNED.

A large portion of the woolen mill at Ripon, Ulster county, was destroyed by fire. Loss heavy, partly insured. One hundred and fifty persons are thrown out of employment.

DEATH OF AN EX-CONGRESSMAN.

Hon. Fred. A. Tallmadge, ex-Member of Congress from this city, died this morning at Litchfield, Conn.

A NEW PARTY.

The Workingmen's Union held an important meeting to-night, and resolved to form a new political independent party, to act in concert with the German Trades' organizations this fall. It also resolved to request Governor Hoffman to enforce the eight-hour law.

THE SADLER-BROWN RACE.

Preparations continue for the coming international scullers' match between Walter Brown, of Portland, Me., and Jos. Sadler, of England, which is appointed for October 1st on the Thames, from Putney to Mortlake. Brown has abandoned his American built boat for one constructed by Jewett. He trains with the ex-champion Henry Kelly as coach. The betting is two to one on Sadler.

CHICAGO.

Close of the Episcopal Convention—Vote on Lay Delegation—Bridges Washed Away—Iowa State Fair.

CHICAGO, September 17.—The Episcopal Diocesan Convention adjourned this afternoon. During the morning session Rev. Dr. Reynolds offered for adoption resolutions congratulating the Bishop on his annual address, expressing satisfaction at the stand which he had taken in that address on the questions involved in the Cheney trial. Dr. Reynolds, in supporting his resolutions, accused certain of the city papers of having been paid for the articles which they had contained in their columns during the trial of Rev. Dr. Cheney.

Just before adjournment two new canons were introduced, having reference to ecclesiastical trials. They were referred to the committee on canons and legislation, to report at the next convention.

The Central Illinois Methodist Episcopal Conference cast its vote to-day on lay delegation, as follows: ayes 74, nays 13.

A St. Paul dispatch says the heavy rains have washed away all the bridges on the stage road between Rush City and Duluth, Lake Superior, so that the roads are impassable. Four or five days more must elapse before travel can be resumed. The loss at Minneapolis by the late flood was somewhat exaggerated. Beyond the loss of logs it will not be over $5,000.

The Iowa State Fair closed to-day, and has been in every way a marked success. Premiums were awarded on agricultural implements, fruits, farm stock, etc. The show of draft animals was especially fine.

NEWS SUMMARY.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Libby & Pennybacker's flour mills and Col. Thomas's Regimental Armory, Philadelphia, were burned yesterday. Loss thirty thousand dollars. The steel pen works, a cabinet shop and a machine shop opposite, were also badly burned.

The Hartford Post denies that Mrs. Stowe is sick.

The game of cricket between the St. George's of New York, and the Philadelphia club, on Thursday, resulted in a victory for the latter, scoring 113 runs in two innings to the St. George's 98.

It is stated that Admiral Hoff had an interview with Secretary Robeson and Admiral Porter on Thursday on Cuban affairs. It is claimed that the Admiral's sympathies have always been with the Cubans, but that his instructions required him to remain strictly neutral, and it would have been obviously unseemly for him to indulge in any demonstrations in favor of the insurgents. He thinks the struggle will be a protracted one unless some outside interference takes place.

A dispatch from Denver, Colorado territory, says, further election returns confirm yesterday's report of the Republican majority. Where the Democrats made a party nomination, they have generally been defeated. The Legislature will have a Republican majority.

A telegram from Puebla says Wild Bill, a noted character, who has figured as a hero of several sketches of life on the border, got into a difficulty on election day, and while being taken to the Colorado City jail, was fired upon from the brush and killed.

The shingle and box factory of Page & Kilburn, on Second and Madison streets, St. Louis, was burned between twelve and one o'clock yesterday morning. Loss about $30,000, insured for $10,000. The lumber yard of Mr. Schulenbourg, adjoining, was damaged about $4,000.

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars, which has been in session at Jacksonville, Illinois, for two days, after several hours discussion of the matter, on Wednesday indorsed by a decided majority the action of the National Temperance Convention recently held in Chicago, in favor of third political organization, the distinctive and most conspicuous part of the platform of which is prohibition.

It is reported Sir Francis Hincks has been offered a seat in the Dominion Cabinet.

Prince Arthur on Thursday visited various points of interest about Quebec, and attended a grand ball in the evening. He leaves there next Monday.

At a meeting of the National Capital Executive Committee a call for a Convention, to be held at St. Louis October 20th, was decided upon, and will be published in the prominent papers of the country. The call, after stating that the Governors of all the States are invited to attend the Convention, says that in case the Governors of any of the States refuse to appoint delegates to the Convention, that delegates selected by Congressman of any Congressional District will be received and duly accredited and admitted to seats in the Convention.

James Armstrong shot his mother-in-law dead in North Bridgewater, Mass., Thursday evening. A shot intended for his father-in-law wounded James Welch, a neighbor. The murderer fled.

A fire yesterday morning greatly damaged Sperry's skate factory and Herrman & Sperry's machine shop, at Syracuse, N. J. Loss upwards of $50,000; insured for $30,000.

The loss by the burning of the Pittsburgh freight depot at Cleveland cannot yet be accurately determined. It was mostly on freight, and is variously estimated at fifty to two hundred thousand dolars. There was no insurance on either building or contents.

James Apple, whose distillery had been closed by officer Brooks, was arrested in Philadelphia yesterday, and committed without bail, charged with being implicated in the shooting of Brooks.

The Canada Chemical Works, at London, were destroyed by fire Thursday night. Loss $30,000; no insurance.

Mrs. Lucy Stone, Mrs. Livermore and Miss Anthony held a reception at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, yesterday morning, which was attended by many citizens.

A gunsmith yesterday identified the pistol found lying near Kreutz, who was found dead in Cincinnati, Tuesday morning, and was supposed to have been murdered, as one he sold to Kreutz Friday last. This is regarded as proof that his death was by suicide.

The Ohio State Fair at Toledo closed yesterday. It can be safely stated to be the most successful in all respects of any yet held. The number of admission tickets sold was 79,000 against 75,000 at Dayton in 1867, the highest of any preceding years. The aggregate receipts were from $28,000 to $30,000. The number of entries was 4,300, being about 1,000 more than any former year. The most gratifying degree of order, sobriety and good feeling distinguished the whole affair, and everybody, officers of the board, exhibitors, visitors and citizens, are delighted. As evidence of the natural resources, developments and advancement of the region of country tributary to Toledo, it was an occasion in which the people of that city may well take pride, and which will do much towards attracting in that direction the industry, skill and capital of the country.

A fire yesterday morning destroyed three frame houses on Queen street, Toronto. Two children belonging to a man named Chaloner, perished in the flames. One fireman was killed, and another fatally injured by a falling chimney. The mother of the children saved a third child by throwing it out of a window.

The body of O. Hillman of Tennessee, was found in the river at Cairo yesterday with his throat cut. He was last seen alive Sunday night, and complained of being sick. It is thought he committed suicide, as the body bore no evidence of having been robbed.

The State Central Conservative Committee of Virginia have adopted a resolution advising against the election of United States Senator at the meeting of the Legislature on the 6th of October.

The St. Louis Agricultural and Mechanical Fair Association have, through their President, A. B. Barrett, sent a very cordial invitation to Prince Arthur and his suite, also to Sir John Young, Governor General, and all the members of the ministry of the Dominion, to attend their annual fair, which will commence October 4th.

At a meeting of the depositors of La Benoist & Co., of St. Louis, recently failed, an exhibit was presented which showed the assets of the bank to be $74,000, and the liabilities $120,000.

The Red Stocking Base Ball Club left St. Louis for Omaha yesterday morning, via the North Missouri Railroad.

The preparations for the International Industrial Exhibition to be held in Buffalo, October 6th, are rapidly drawing to a close.

The case of David E. Saunders, the defaulting teller of the North National Bank of Boston, came up yesterday before Commissioner Hallet. Charles G. Nazro, President of the bank, testified as to the discovery of the defalcation, which amounted to $132,000. Wm. B. Lee and John M. Danforth, of the firm of Lee, Danforth & Co., brokers, testified that they had bought stocks for defendant, requiring the usual margin of ten dollars a share. No inquiry was ever made by them as to where defendant got his money. Upon a cross-examination Mr. Danforth stated that at one time had his firm had a margin of $50,000 received from defendant, and that the commissions of his firm received by their dealing with him might have been $20,000. The case was then continued, the bail remaining at $50,000. It is stated by the officers of the bank that the loss to the bank will be about $90,000 after deducting the bonds of Saunders and the amount received by the brokers.

The wife of James Armstrong was the victim in the shooting case at North Bridgewater, and not his mother-in-law, as reported.

Depositions are still being taken at St. Louis in the case of Frank Mooney against the owners of the steamer Flirt for inhuman treatment. No person except Mooney himself has yet testified positively that Mooney was shot in the mouth at the time of the fracas, though some saw him bleeding at the mouth. The theory of the defense, although no deposition in their behalf have been taken as yet, is evidently that Mooney, when ordered to perform some duty on the boat, was stubborn and refractory; that the mate punished him to compel obedience; that a pistol was used with which he was beaten on the head, and during the castigation it went off, but shot nobody; that Mooney was ordered off the boat to the island to carry on wood, and refused to do so, seating himself upon a log and obstinately refusing to return to the boat; that the boat was retained some time through his refusal to go aboard, and finally was compelled to shove off without him.

LADY BYRON.

Her Idiosyncracies—Letter from Mr. Howitt.

Mr. Wm. Howitt's contribution to the Byron discussion contains the following interesting facts: I am sure that Lady Byron was a woman of the most honorable and conscientious intentions, but she was subject to a constitutional idiosyncracy of a most peculiar kind, which rendered her, when under its influence, absolutely and persistently unjust. I am quite sure from my own observation of her that, when seized by this peculiar condition of the nerves, she was helplessly under its control. Through this the changes in her mood were sudden, and most painful to all about her. I have seen her of an evening in the most amiable, cordial and sunny humor, full of interest and sympathy; I have seen her the next morning come down as if she had lain all night not on a feather bed, but on a glacier—frozen, as it were, to the very soul, and no efforts on the part of those around her could restore her for the day to a genial, social, warmth. In such moments she seemed to take sudden and deep impressions against persons and things, which, though the worst might pass away, left a permanent effect. Let me give an instance or two:

Lady Byron was, at the period I speak of, deeply interested in the establishment of working schools for the education of children of the laboring classes. She induced Lord Lovelace to erect one at Oakham; she built one on her estate at Kirby Mallory, in Leicestershire. On one occasion, in one of her most amiable moods, she asked me to lunch with her in town, that we might discuss her plans for this system of education. She promised to arrange that we should not be interrupted for some hours. I went at the time fixed; but, to my consternation, found her in one of her frozen fits. The touch of her hand was like that of death; in her manner there was the silence of the grave. We sate down to luncheon by ourselves, and I endeavored to break the ice by speaking of incidents of the day. It was in vain. The devil of the North Pole was upon her, and I could only extract icy monosyllables. When we returned to the drawing-room, I sought to interest her in the topic on which we had met, and which she had so truly at heart. It was hopeless. She said she felt unable to go into it, and I was glad to get away.

Again, she was in great difficulty as to the selection of a master for her working school at Kirby Mallory. It was necessary for him to unite the very rarely united qualities of a thoroughly practical knowledge of the operations of agricultural gardening with the education and information of an accomplished schoolmaster. She asked me to try and discover this rara avis for her. I knew exactly such a man in Nottinghamshire, who was at the same time thoroughly honorable, trustworthy and fond of teaching. At her earnest request I prevailed on him to give up his then comfortable position and accept her offer. For a time he was everything in her eyes that a man and a schoolmaster could be. She was continually speaking of him when we met in the most cordial terms. But in the course, as I remember, of two or three years, the poor fellow wrote to me in the utmost distress, saying that Lady Byron, without the slightest intimation of being in any way dissatisfied with him, or with his management of the school, had given him notice to quit. He had entreated her to let him know what was the cause of this sudden dismissal. She refused to give any, and he entreated me to write and endeavor to remove her displeasure, or to ascertain its cause. I felt, from what I had seen of Lady Byron before, that it was useless. I wrote to him, "Remember Lord Byron! If Lady Byron has taken into her head that you shall go, nothing will turn her. Go you must, and you had better prepare for it." And the poor fellow, with a family of about five children, and his old situation filled up, turned out into the world to comparative ruin.

Dexterity of the East Indian Thieves.

The report of the Inspector of Indian Prisons contains the following remarks on the dexterity of thieves in India. He says: "Cheynes, or cut purses, are men who carry small knives sharp as razors in their mouths. They frequent bazars, and with wonderful instinct feel out the nooks on a ryot's person, where he has tucked the corner of his cummerbund, in which his money is tied up, and then, with a neatness still more wonderful, the Cheynesnicks off the bit of cloth with his knife, and disappears with the rupees. Then there are the Syndbyas and Burryars, professional burglars, who mine into a zenana, coming up through the floor like a ghost, and with less noise. They will file off and open the bangles and nose rings of the sleeping women without waking them, and then disappear as they came. The ordinary burglar posts his confederate sentinel, and then picks a hole in the mud wall of a house with his sindmurry. When the hole is sufficiently large to push a boy through or to get through himself, he carefully inserts a ghurra or stick, through the hole. If the ghurra is not immediately smashed by a blow from the inside—for it sometimes happens that the inmate is alarmed, and stands on his guard near the hole inside, with a stick or sword, waiting for the burglar's head to appear—he sees that the coast is clear, and proceeds to effect an entrance. But this is clumsy work compared to the professional thief, who will cut a hole in a tent, and step over a sleeping watch-dog without alarming the animal. He carries a sharp knife, works naked, and oils his body, so that he is hardly ever taken.

Checkered Front on the Bags.

There is no necessity now for people having poor or inferior bread. Jenkins & Bro. have put their best flours in these bags, which cannot be imitated by our mills and dealers. Families can now get the genuine White River and Snow Flake Flours, with directions on the bags. †

Official Correspondence Between Turkey and Egypt.
CONSTANTINOPLE, September 17.—The Grand Vizier has dispatched a second official letter in the name of the Sultan to the Viceroy of Egypt, in which he expresses satisfaction at the receipt of the assurances of fidelity on the part of His Highness, which his note contained, as also his pleasure at the compliance with, and strict adherance to, the conditions of the recent firman issued by the latter. The Sultan, however, specially insists that the Viceroy shall, in the future, strictly observe the following points of the royal missive: That the Egyptian army shall be reduced; that thirty thousand needle guns alone shall be ordered in Europe or elsewhere, and that all small arms beyond that number, as well as any iron-clad vessels of war which may have been bargained for or are now in course of construction, shall be countermanded; that the public taxes of the territory shall be levied and collected in the name of the Sultan only; that taxes shall be imposed only in the name of the Sultan; that the annual Budget of Finance shall be submitted regularly to the Sultan for authorization previous to its promulgation; that his approval be asked for in all cases of contract of foreign loans; that the Viceroy shall not hold direct official intercourse or communication with foreign governments, and that he shall afford, through his officers, better treatment to Mussulman pilgrims journeying to and from the Holy Shrine. The Grand Vizier adds in conclusion that, in compliance with these terms, and an understanding as to a faithful executive observance of them, the Sultan will be glad to see the Viceroy in Constantinople.

BY THE OLD CABLE.

Early Settlement of Our Difficulty with Spain Probable.
LONDON, September 17.—The Star, radical organ, to-day states that the difficulty between the United States and Spain on the Cuban question is in a fair way of settlement. The rumor of a proclamation guaranteeing religious liberty and freedom of election shortly to be issued by the Spanish government is a better omen, but if the reports of the military government in Cuba are true, the concession must be prefaced by one more essential, namely, that the Cubans be permitted to live to enjoy them.

Doncaster Race Meeting.
LONDON, September 17.—Yesterday was the third day of the Doncaster September meeting. The sweepstakes was won by Stanley beating Picidor colt and Gertrude. The Scarborough stake was won by Rupert, beating Good Hope and Dryad. The Eglinton stake was won by Camel, beating Agility and White Slave. The Bodminton Handicap was won by Vagabond, beating Dryad and Departure. The Portland plate was won by Argyle, beating Minnie Warren and Lady Sweetland. The Juvenile selling stakes was won by Zerlina, beating Zeacchaens.

The following were to-day's races: The Parkhill stakes was won by Totson D'Or beating Crocus and Night Jar. The Doncaster stakes was won by Pero Gomez, beating Pretender Second and Typhon. The Don stakes was won by Morna, beating Budsworth. The Doncaster cup was won by Good Hope by a length, beating Blue Skin and Acaster. The nursery plate was won by Camel, beating Newsman and Enfield. The Westmoreland stakes was won by Fichu, beating X. I. and Roxaner. The Scurry stakes was won by Dione, beating Ismael and Zacahus.

The Statistical Congress.
THE HAGUE, September 17.—During the session of the Statistical Congress yesterday, Mr. Chadwick moved for the collection of statistics respecting military service, with a view to a reduction of the standing armies. Mr. Ruggles, of New York, supported the motion in a lengthy speech, wherein he contrasted the armaments of Europe with those of the United States. He exampled the recent war in America for the suppression of the rebellion and the extirpation of slavery, and when all was over, the return of the soldiers to their peaceful avocations. To pay the costs of that war does not impoverish and weaken the country as much as standing armies do in European States.

Wreck of a Mail Steamer.
LONDON, September 17.—Advices have been received of the total wreck of the Indian Mail steamer Caranatic, of the Island of Shadum, in the Red Sea. All the passengers and crew succeeded in reaching the shore in safety, but the mails and the cargo were lost. The steamer had a large amount of specie on board for this city, which was lost.

Prince Napoleon
PARIS, September 17.—Prince Napoleon embarked from Calais in his yacht to-day.

War Between Spain and America—Its Results.
LONDON, September 17.—The Telegraph has an editorial on the relations existing between Spain and the United States wherein it says: The recognition of the Cubans would place Washington in the wrong on the Alabama question. With what consistency can rights be granted wandering guerrillas, not formidable enough for a blockade? If England desired to put the accusers of her policy out of court, she should encourage the policy ascribed to President Grant. We prefer to take the question on the broad grounds of common interests. War between Spain and America would be a material injury that would be equally apportioned. The shipping of the latter would be a prey to privateers, and her commerce with the profits would pass to neutrals. The reduction of the national debt would be arrested, internal organization checked, and public discontent would revive with the growing burdens. Spain would lose Cuba, but continue Spain, with her obstinate tenacity of resistance, her great undeveloped resources, her power to attack American trade, and her comparative invulnerability to retaliation. America would gain at a heavy cost what might for years be more a loss than a gain; would be entangled in a war combining a maximum cost and a minimum glory. Such a consideration can not pass unregarded at Washington, since there is still ground for the hope that peace may be preserved.

More Conciliatory.
MADRID, September 17.—It is thought the Cabinet at Washington has become somewhat more conciliatory since the receipt of a telegram from Mr. Sickles, American Minister, that the over-excited temper of the Spanish people will compel the Government to continue the war for the suppression of the insurrection in Cuba.

The Spanish Throne.
The King of Italy has given his consent to the selection of the Duke of Genoa as King of Spain.

The "Examiner" on the Cuban Question.
LONDON, September 17.—The Examiner on the subject of Spain and Cuba, has the following: By the history of analogy there is no longer a physical impediment to the representation of Cuba in the Spanish Cortes. Expediency recommends it, but for Cuba is it not too late, if not sold, to surrender? Her own inhabitants must in some form be mortgaged to the Americans, with the certainty that, once in power, she will eventually become theirs. It is better perhaps for Spain.

Personal.
Prince Gortschakoff remains in this city.

Funeral of Lady Palmerston.
The remains of Lady Palmerston were interred at Westminster to-day.

The Weather.
Rain for the past few days has been general, but not heavy. The harvesting in Yorkshire has been stopped. A week's dry weather is necessary to secure the crops in good order.

Loss of the Canartic.
Later dispatches from Alexandria are received relative to the loss of the steamer Canartic. Five passengers, nine of the crew and fifteen natives are missing, and it is supposed they are are drowned.

The German Liberals.
BERLIN, September 17.—An organization of the National Liberals of North and South Germany into one party is projected. The scheme is generally approved, though in Bavaria there is much apparent reserve.

Letter from M. Peretry.
PARIS, September 17.—M. Peretry, one of the members of the Corps Legislatif, has written a letter in which he demands that Deputies shall reassemble on the 25th of October of their own free will, if the government does not convoke the Chamber according to the constitution.

Congratulations.
ST. PETERSBURG, September 17.—The Sclavonians have felicitated the Bohemians.

Our Minister to Austria.
VIENNA, September 17.—Mr. Joy, American Minister, has returned from his visit to Admiral Radford at Trieste. He goes to Voslom for a week, prior to taking up his residence here.

The Strike at Barcelona.
MADRID, September 17.—The strike of the workingmen at Barcelona counties has assumed alarming proportions.

The Irish Land Question.
CORK, September 17.—The Farmers' Club have adopted resolutions demanding a perpetuity in land tenures, the placing of rents on a fixed basis, and the abolition of distress for rent. A National Tenants' League was organized.

Death of Roget, the Author.
LONDON, September 17.—Peter Mark Roget, the author, died to-day, aged ninety years.

Napoleon's Abdication.
A rumor is current this evening that Napoleon, on account of the precarious state of his health, will shortly abdicate in favor of his son, but will retain the Presidency of the Council.

The Cuban Deputies.
MADRID, September 17.—A decree summoning the Cuban Deputies to the Cortes to Madrid will shortly be published.

The fleet is nearly ready to sail with reinforcements for Cuba.

The Khedive Not Satisfied.
CONSTANTINOPLE, September 17.—The Khedive of Egypt raises difficulties respecting the carrying out of that portion of the second official letter of the Sultan relative to budget loans.

Synod of Armagh.
DUBLIN, September 17.—In the Synod of Armagh a resolution excluding the laity from deciding questions of doctrine and discipline has been rejected by a large majority. The Synod has also rejected a resolution looking to representation of minorities, and has adjourned until the 30th inst.

RAILWAY COLLISION.

A Passenger Train Collides with a Stock Train—Several Persons Injured.

ROCHESTER, September 17.—A serious collision occurred on the Central Railroad, at Lyons, this evening. The 5:30 train from this city ran into the rear end of a stock train, owing to the carelessness of a switchman, destroying the engine and disabling every passenger coach in the train. Several persons were injured, but there were no fatal casualties. George Colborne, engineer, is unhurt. John Coffey, fireman, is cut about the head and shoulders. A baggage man named Putnam was badly scalded. Miss Jennie Newton, of Rochester, received internal injuries which may prove fatal. Mr. Robbins was hurt in the leg. It is impossible to procure the names of others injured. Several cars in the stock train were destroyed, and the cattle in them killed.

THE PACIFIC COAST.

Movements of the Odd Fellows—Meeting of the Grand Lodge Monday.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 17.—The members of the National Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows to-day visited the harbor fortifications, and took a short trip through Golden Gate. They met the business men of the city this evening at the hall of the Chamber of Commerce. The Grand Lodge convenes on Monday next.

The Governor of Oregon has appointed three delegates to the St. Louis National Capital Convention.

MR. SEWARD IN AND ON ALASKA.

What he Saw in Alaska—Eagles and Humming Birds in Abundance—Golden Skies and Sapphire Clouds—Silver Moonlight and Mother-of-Pearl Water—Cloud-Capped Mountains and Sweetly Sleeping Rivers—Big Whales and Little Fishes—A Glorious Place.

On Thursday, August 12, Mr. Seward was officially received at Sitka. He embraced the occasion to make a somewhat elaborate speech, from which we make the following extracts:

EAGLES SOARING AND HUMMING BIRDS FLUTTERING.

Of course I speak first of the skies of Alaska. It seems to be assumed in the case of Alaska that a country which extends through 58° of longitude and embraces portions as well of the Arctic as of the Temperate Zone, unlike all other regions so situated, has not several climates, but only one. The weather of this one broad climate of Alaska is severely criticised in outside circles for being too wet and too cold. Nevertheless, it must be a fastidious person who complains of climates in which while the eagle delights to soar, the humming bird does not disdain to flutter, I shall speak only of the particular climate here which I know.

LOST IN CELESTIAL ADMIRATION.

My visit here happens to fall within the month of August. Not only have the skies been sufficiently bright and serene to give me a perfect view, under the sixtieth parallel, of the total eclipse of the sun and of the evening star at the time of the sun's obscuration, but I have also enjoyed more clear than there have been cloudy days, and in the early mornings and in the late evenings peculiar to the season, I have lost myself in admiration of skies adorned with sapphire and gold as richly as those which are reflected by the Mediterranean.

ROLL ON, SILVER MOON.

Of all the moonlights in the world, commend me to those which light up the Archipelago of the North Pacific Ocean. Fogs have sometimes detained me longer on the Hudson and on Long Island Sound than now on the waters of the North Pacific. In saying this I do not mean to say that rain and fog are unfrequent here. The Russian pilot George, whom you all know, expressed my conviction on this matter exactly when he said to me: "Oh, yes, Mr. Seward, we do have changeable weather here sometimes as they do in the other States." I might amend the expression by adding that the weather here is a little more changeable. It must be confessed at least that it an honest climate, for it makes no pretensions to constancy.

MAGNIFICENT AURORAS AND RAINBOWS.

If, however, you have fewer bright sunrises and glowing sunsets than southern latitudes enjoy, you are favored on the other hand with more frequent and more magnificent displays of the aurora and the rainbow. The thermometer tells the whole case when it reports that the summer is colder and the winter is warmer in Alaska than in New York and Washington. It results from the nature of such a climate that the earth prefers to support the fir, the spruce, the pine, the hemlock, and other evergreens, rather than deciduous trees, and to furnish grasses and esculent roots, rather than the cereals of drier and hotter climates.

INFANCY WITHOUT DISEASE—AGE WITHOUT PAIN.

I have mingled freely with the multifarious population, the Tongas, the Stickeens, the Cakes, the Hydabs, the Sitkas, the Kootznoos, and the Chilcats, as well as with the traders, the soldiers, the seamen, and the settlers of various nationalities, English, Swedish, Russian, and American, and I have seen all around me only persons enjoying robust and exuberant health. Manhood of every race and condition everywhere exhibits activity and energy, while infancy seems exempt from disease and age relieved from pain.

GREAT WHALES AND LITTLE FISHES.

It is next in order to speak of the rivers and seas of Alaska. The rivers are broad, shallow, and rapid, while the seas are deep but tranquil. Mr. Sumner, in his elaborate and magnificent oration, although he spoke only from historical accounts, has not exaggerated—no man can exaggerate—the marine treasures of the Territory. Besides the whale, which everywhere and at all times is seen enjoying his robust exercise, and the sea otter, the fur seal, hair seal, and the walrus, found in the waters which embosom the western islands, those waters as well as the seas of the Eastern Archipelago are found teeming with the salmon, cod, and other fishes adapted to the support of human and animal life. Indeed, what I have seen here has almost made me a convert to the theory of some naturalists that the waters of the globe are filled with stores for the sustenance of animal life surpassing the available productions of the soil.

NATURE'S CLOUD-CAPPED TOWERS AND MINERALS.

It must be remembered that the coast range of mountains which begins in Mexico is continued into the territory and invades the seas of Alaska. Hence it is that on the mainland, so far as I have explored it, we find ourselves in the immediate presence of black hills, or foot hills, as they are variously called, and that these foot hills are intertopped by ridges of snow-capped mountains. These snow-capped mountains are manifestly of volcanic origin, and they have been subjected through an indefinite period to atmospheric abrasion and disintegration. Hence they have assumed all conceivable shapes and forms. In some places they are serrated into sharp, angular peaks, and in other places they appear architecturally arranged so as to present cloud-capped castles, towers, domes, and minarets. The mountain sides are furrowed with deep and straight ravines, down which the thawing fields of ice and snow are precipitated, generally in the month of May, with such a vehemence as to have produced in every valley immense level plains of intervale land. These plains, as well as the sides of the mountains almost to the summits, are covered with forests so dense and dark as to be impenetrable except to wild beasts and savage huntsmen.

THE BALM OF GILEAD AND UMBRAGEOUS FORESTS.

On the lowest intervale land the cottonwood grows. It seems to be the species of poplar which is known in the Atlantic States as the Balm of Gilead, and which is dwarfed in the Rocky Mountains. Here it takes such large dimensions that the Indian shapes out of a single trunk his war canoe, which safely bears over the deepest waters a phalanx of sixty warriors. These imposing trees always appear to rise out of a jungle of elder, alder, crab apple, and other fruit-bearing shrubs and bushes. The short and slender birch, which, sparsely scattered, marks the verge of vegetation in Labrador, has not yet been reached by the explorers of Alaska. The birch tree sometimes appears upon the river side, upon the level above the cottonwood, and is generally found a comely and stately tree. The forests of Alaska, however, consist mainly neither of shrubs, nor of birch, nor of cottonwood, but, as I have already intimated, of the pine, the cedar, the cypress, the spruce, the fir, the larch, and the hemlock. The forests begin almost at the water's edge, and they rise with regular gradation to a height of 2,000 feet. The trees, nowhere dwarfed or diminutive, attain the highest dimensions in sunny exposures in the deep canons or gorges of the mountains. The cedar, sometimes called the yellow cedar, and sometimes the fragrant cedar, was long ago imported into China as an ornamental wood, and it now furnishes the majestic beams and pillars with which the richer and more ambitious native chief delights to construct his rude but spacious hall or palatial residence, and upon which he carves in rude symbolical imagery the heraldry of his tribe, and achievements of his nation. No beam, or pillar, or spar, or mast, or plank is ever required in either the land or the naval architecture of any civilized state greater in length and width than the trees which can be hewn down on the coasts of the islands and rivers here, and conveyed directly thence by navigation. A few gardens, fields and meadows have been attempted by natives in some of the settlements, and by the soldiers at the military posts, with most encouraging results. Nor must we forget that the native grasses ripening late in a humid climate preserve their nutritive properties though exposed, while the climate is so mild that horses require but light provisions of shelter during the winter.

A RECRUITING GROUND FOR MENAGERIES.

After what I have already said, I may excuse myself from expatiating on the animal productions of the forest. The elk and the deer are so plenty as to be undervalued for food or skins by natives as well as strangers. The bear of many families—black, grizzly, and cinnamon—the mountain sheep, inestimable for his fleece, the wolf, the fox, the beaver, the otter, the mink, the racoon, the marten, the ermine, the squirrel, gray, black, brown, and flying, are among the land fur-bearing animals. The furs thus found here have been the chief element for more than a hundred years of the profitable commerce of the Hudson's Bay Company, whose mere possessory privileges seem even at this late day too costly to find a ready purchaser. This fur trade, together with the sea fur trade within the Territory, were the sole basis alike of Russian commerce and empire on the continent. The commerce was so large and important as to induce the Governments of Russia and China to build and maintain a town for carrying on its exchanges in Tartary on the border of the two empires. It is well understood that the supply of furs in Alaska has not diminished, while the demand for them in China and elsewhere has immensely increased.

FAILURE OF THE ICE CROP.

I fear that we must confess to a failure of ice as an element of territorial wealth, at least as far as the immediate region is concerned. I find that the Russian American Company, whose monopoly was abolished by the Treaty of Acquisition, depended for its ice exclusively upon the small lake or natural pond which furnishes the power for your saw-mill in this town, and this dependence has now failed by reason of the increasing mildness of the winter. The California Ice Company are now trying the small lakes of Kodiac, and certainly I wish them success. I think it is not yet ascertained whether glacier ice is pure and practical for commerce. If it is, the world may be supplied from the glaciers which, suspended from the regions of the clouds, stand forth, in the majesty of ever wasting and ever renewing translucent mountains upon the banks of the Stickeen and Chilcat rivers, and the shores of Cross Sound.

ALASKA'S GOLDEN EGGS.

Alaska has been as yet but imperfectly explored. Enough is known to assure us it possesses treasures of what are called the baser ores, equal to those of any other region of the continent. We have Copper Island and Copper river, so named as the places where the natives, before the period of the Russian discovery, had procured the metal from which they fabricated instruments of war and legendary shields. In regard to iron, the question seems to be not where it can be found, but whether there is any place it does not exist. Mr. Davidson, of the Coast Survey, invited me to go up to him at the station he had taken upon the Chilcot river, to make his observations of the eclipse, by writing me that he had discovered an iron mountain there. When I came there, I found that very properly he had been studying the heavens so busily that he had but cursorily examined the earth under his feet; that it was not a single iron mountain that he has discovered, but a range of hills, the very dust of which adheres to the magnet, while the range itself, 2,000 feet high, extends along the east bank of the river thirty miles. Limestone and marble crop out on the banks of the same river and in many other places. Coal beds, accessible to navigation, are found on Kootznoo. It is said, however, that the concentrated resin which the mineral contains renders it too inflammable to be used by steamers. In any case it would seem calculated to supply fuel requisite for the manufacture of iron. What seems to be excellent channel coal is also found in the Prince of Wales Archipelago. There are also mines at Cook's Inlet. Placer and gold quartz mining is pursued under many social disadvantages upon the Stickeen and elsewhere, with a degree of success which, while it does not warrant us in assigning a superiority in that respect to the Territory, does nevertheless warrant us in regarding gold mining as an established and reliable resource.

MR. SEWARD'S PANORAMA.

It would argue inexcusable insensibility if I should fail to speak of the scenery which, in the course of my voyage, has seemed to pass like a varied and magnificent panorama before me. The exhibition did not open within the Territory. It broke upon me first when I had passed Cape Flattery and entered the Straits of Fuca, which separate British Columbia from Washington Territory. It widened as I passed along the shore of Puget Sound, expanded in the waters which divide Vancouver from the continent, and finally spread itself out into a magnificent archipelago, stretching through the Gulf of Alaska, and closing under the shades of Mounts Fairweather and St. Elias. Nature has furnished to this majestic picture the only suitable border which could be conceived, by lifting the coast range mountains to an exalted height and clothing them with eternal snows and crystaline glaciers.

WHAT A STATESMAN HAS SEEN.

Within the period of my own recollection, I have seen twenty new States added to the eighteen which before that time constituted the American Union, and now see besides Alaska, ten Territories in a forward condition of preparation for entrance into the political family. I have seen in my own time not only the first electric telegraph, but even the first railroad and the first steamboat invented by man. And even on this present voyage of mine I have fallen in with the first steamboat, still afloat, that thirty-five years ago, lighted her fires on the Pacific Ocean. These citizens of Sitka, are the guarantees, not only that Alaska has a future, but that that future has already begun. I know that you want two things just now, when European monopoly is broken down and United States free trade is being introduced into the Territory. These are, military protection while your number is so inferior to that of the Indians around you, and you need a territorial civil government. Congress has already supplied the first of these wants adequately and effectually. I do not doubt that it will supply the other want during the coming winter. It must do this, because our political system rejects alike anarchy and executive absolutism. Nor do I doubt that political society to be constituted here, first as a Territory and ultimately as a State, or many States, will prove a worthy constituency of the Republic. To doubt that it will be intelligent, virtuous, prosperous and enterprising, is to doubt the experience of Scotland, Denmark, Sweden, and Holland and Belgium, and of New England and New York. Nor do I doubt that it will be forever true in its Republican instincts and loyal to the American Union, for the inhabitants will be both mountaineers and seafaring men. I am not among those who apprehend infidelity to liberty and the Union in any quarter hereafter, but I am sure if constancy and loyalty are to fail anywhere the failure will not be in the States which approach nearest to the North Pole.

A TOUCHING FAREWELL.

Fellow-citizens, accept once more my thanks, from the heart of my heart, for kindness which can never be forgotten, and suffer me to leave you with a sincere and earnest farewell.

Buying Teas with Gold.

Teas are sold by importers to New York and Philadelphia jobbers on four and six months' credit and for large profits. These jobbers again give long credits and additional profits follow. This is what occasions the extravagant prices paid for Teas all over the country. T. C. Jenkins & Bro., are buying their Teas direct for gold and are determined to make Pittsburgh a distributing point—they claim they can undersell Eastern jobbing houses and will guarantee satisfaction as to quality and prices of Teas. The Dwelling is of brick, has four rooms, good cellar, and one-eighth of an acre of Ground; Storeroom frame, 36 by 22, with Wareroom attached, with other outbuildings. The people in the neighborhood are well to do farmers, and to a man of small capital this is an opportunity not often offered. The property is offered very low as the price compared with the property itself will show. The owner is now doing a good business, as his books will show, and were he in good health he could realize double it. We will sell the above for $3,000, or will exchange it for a few Acres of Land in a good neighborhood, convenient to a good school, in a healthy, not too cold country. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, Real Estate Agents, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—BUSINESS STAND—IN the Borough of Bridgewater, Beaver county, Pa. The property consists of a Lot 75 feet front on Bridge street by 175 feet deep. The building is a three story Brick, and could not be built for the price we offer it at. The Storeroom is 28 by 33, with Fixtures all complete, and now doing a good business. Dwelling contains 8 Rooms and good Cellar, all necessary Outbuildings, such as Wash-house, Carriage House, Ice House, Stable, Bakeoven, Cistern, &c., &c. Also, Shrubbery and Small Fruits. Possession of the property given on short notice. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—FOUNDRY—RARE CHANCE for an enterprising man with some capital. Situated in the town of Washington, the county seat of Washington county, Pa. It is now doing a very successful business, as the books will show, and could be increased to double the amount, if desired, and yet could not supply the demand. We will also furnish a partner for a half interest if desired by the purchaser. This is a good opening for a man with capital. Full information by CROFT & PHILLIPS, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—DESIRABLE FARM, CONTAINING 159 Acres, adjoining the town of Homer, a station on the Indiana Branch Railroad, in Indiana county, Pa.; 120 acres of the Land is cleared and in a high state of cultivation, residue covered with choice White Oak, Walnut and other Timbers; 20 acres good Bottom Land. Good two-story Frame House, of 6 Rooms and Kitchen; large Barn, 72 by 45, with double Threshing Floors, in good order and conveniently arranged. Also, all necessary outbuildings, and in fact everything to be found on a well regulated Farm. Large Orchard of choice Fruit of all kinds. This Property cannot fail to please any one seeking a good Farm, as it is right along side of Railroad, Schools, Churches, Stores, Mills and Postoffice. Terms easy. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, Real Estate Agents, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—SALT WORKS AND FIFTY Acres of Land, on West Penna. Railroad, fifty miles east of Pittsburgh. The Works front on the Railroad, and is in successful operation, making a paying quantity of superior Salt per day. The Land is underlaid with Coal, which is now being mined for use of Works. This Property is offered extremely low, and were it not that the owner is too old to longer attend to it, it would not be sold for the price now asked for it. The surface of the Land would suit for the cultivation of Grapes, and it is also underlaid with Fire Clay. We have seen the property, and can give any further information desired. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—A SPLENDID FARM OF 150 Acres, in Westmoreland county, Pa., 2½ miles from Saltsburg, a town and station on the West Pennsylvania Railroad. Good road to the Farm: 110 Acres in cultivation, residue in good White Oak Timber; first class House and Barn, and good Orchard of choice Fruit; plenty of good water, good garden, &c., and everything in well kept condition. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, Real Estate Agents, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—MANUFACTURING SITE, fronting on the West Pennsylvania Railroad and the Allegheny river, in Eighth ward, Allegheny, formerly Duquesne Borough. Lot is 94 feet on Railroad, 104 feet on river by 235 feet deep. Splendid location for any kind of a manufactory; there are seven Dwelling Houses on the property, which would suit well for employees. Terms easy. Apply to CROFT & PHILLIPS, Real Estate Agents, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

FOR SALE—SPLENDID DAIRY FARM, near Alliance, Ohio. It contains 148 Acres; has all necessary fixtures for conducting the Dairy Business; is well watered, large Brick House of 8 rooms, large Frame Barn, good Orchard, &c., and only one-half mile from the corporate limits of the city of Alliance. There is a speculation in this property beyond a doubt, as a few years hence it can be sold out in town lots at double the price now asked for it. For a country Residence it is delightful, having a beautiful view of Alliance, Mount Union, and the passing trains of both the P. Ft. W. & C. RR., and the C. & P. RR. We will sell it in any shape to suit purchasers, with or without buildings, or in large or small tracts; will also give the purchaser an opportunity of investing in an established manufacturing business, now in operation on one part of the property and paying largely. Taken on the whole it is a splendid opening for a man with some capital. For further information apply at the Real Estate Office of CROFT & PHILLIPS, No. 139 Fourth avenue.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1869.

THE saying, it takes two to make a quarrel, is aptly illustrated in the respective attitudes of the Mother Country and Canada. While the bulk of the refractory children are inclined to gravitate towards the American Union, the offended parent seems equally anxious to rid herself of further care on their behalf. Even the presence of a royal prince fails to furnish a salve to the landed proprietors and leading manufacturers. The difference between the reception of the Prince of Wales and his younger brother is so great as to excite remark. The greetings extended the former were characterized by a fulsome flattery. The perorations of the addresses were built upon the fostering care of the mother country and the prosperity attending it. Now the leading agriculturists, manufacturers and merchants select the occasion of a royal Prince's presence to point out the depreciation of real estate, and the decrease which marks the industrial branches. Such, in effect, is the gist of the resolutions passed at the meeting at Quebec the other day. Meanwhile, an ex-Governor labors to show the gain that would insure to the crown by severing all connection with Canada. The fact that is most remarkable in this connection is the subject that agitates the provinces and crown, excites little or no remark among us, and is seldom alluded to.

WE once more commend to the most active of our Free Trade advocates the lesson conveyed in the brief but significant cablegrams which come to us from Manchester, England. The lesson will not be complete, however, unless the inquirer after knowledge refers to the popular movement that swept over Lancaster twenty-five years ago. It is exactly a quarter of a century since the cotton factors of Lancaster carried all before them with the specious cry of "Free Trade." The few who battled with them to the last moment sealed their political doom. Now we perceive the sons of the men who staked all upon free trade clamoring for protection. This is the meaning of the speeches and resolutions adopted at the recent meeting of the cotton merchants, spinners and manufacturers at Manchester. Parliament is appealed to "to grant an inquiry into the cause of the depressed state of capital and labor," i. e., the rulers are asked to show cause why expedient measures should not be immediately adopted for the restoration of a sound protective policy. Just here the question naturally arises, if England in the height of her prosperity failed to reap the benefits supposed to be derived from a Free Trade policy, conducted for a quarter of a century, what would be the probable result should the United States, in her present condition, with a crippled commerce, conclude to pursue a similar policy?

It requires little foresight to predict that the movement begun in Lancaster, (the first fruits of which have been exhibited in Manchester in an unmistakable manner,) will extend throughout England. By and by we will hear of "Protective Leagues" in every hamlet in England.

OUR TRADE WITH THE SOUTH.

The Commercial Convention which meets at the city of Louisville on the 12th proximo affords an opportunity for the manufacturers of Pittsburgh to exhibit their facilities in a fair field of competition that should not be overlooked. The basis of representation at the Convention is as follows:

"That the city authorities of each city of 8,000 inhabitants shall appoint one delegate for each additional 10,000 inhabitants.

"That the Governor of each State and Territory shall appoint a delegation at large, not exceeding one for each Congressional district.

"That each incorporated railroad, steamboat, manufacturing or mining company in actual operation, having over $50,000 capital paid in, shall appoint one delegate.

"That each Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade shall appoint one delegate for every hundred members, or fractional hundred."

We have endeavored on more than one occasion to impress upon our manufacturers and merchants the importance of seizing every opportunity to occupy a prominent position in the rivalry of Southern trade. Especially in the manufacture of articles of iron and steel, glass, and the vast range of domestic ware, Pittsburgh should not be lagging in putting forth her claims. Heretofore we have given too much attention to the West, and too little to the South. The Convention at Louisville promises to be productive of important results. We have seen the steady increase of the manufactures of the West; we have seen also the disposition of trade to drift to the South, and the sharp rivalry attending it.

We may prepare ourselves to witness the absorption of the Southern trade by less favored localities in proportion to their capital and facilities unless we adopt such means as will naturally suggest themselves to an intelligent community, not only to retain our present position, but to keep pace with the demands of the hour. We should do more. We should not delude ourselves with the thought that the South is not yet in a condition to resume her former position. Once permit this theory to guide our movements, and all efforts to recover lost ground will prove futile.

The question is one that merits instant attention. Pittsburgh should send a strong and active delegation to the Louisville Commercial Convention. We understand that extensive preparations have been made to entertain all who attend. Let us avail ourselves of this opportunity to impress upon the South some idea of our vast range of products, and our facilities for supplying that market.

PHILADELPHIA.

It is gratifying to note the success of our efforts to arouse Philadelphia to a sense of her situation and make her feel that the time has come when she must do something to be saved. The press of that city are beginning to take hold of the matter and second our efforts to awaken public spirit and induce the city to shake off the influence which binds her in stupor and inaction. Philadelphia possesses the ability if she only can be induced to cultivate the will to rise to a first class city. The article we quote below from the Ledger speaks the truth when it says that the policy of Philadelphians has caused their city to be regarded and spoken of throughout the West as "an inconsiderable country town, with fifteen or twenty thousand inhabitants," and the reference which that paper makes to the fact, that throughout the country the name of Philadelphia is "obscured in small "and insignificant letters on the railway "sign boards or sandwiched between, the "names of Allentown and Harrisburg, or "New Haven and Boston," strikes directly to the root of the matter. In the railway management of the country Philadelphia is made to play a very minor part. Whatever benefits she receives are incidental. She is first in the allegiance and purposes of no railroad company, except it may be of a purely local character. Proud as she pretends to be of the Central, and much as she has done for it, the feeling is not reciprocated in the management of that Company.

The starting point for all trunk lines is New York, the cities and towns beyond are but way stations. This is something the Central management cannot help, though it may be questioned whether it has done all it could, or cares to do what it might, for Philadelphia. That city, unlike Baltimore, seems to have no great road fighting her battles. New York gets the benefit of all this, because she has competing roads running to her. Philadelphia has none; nor has she, like Baltimore, a road thoroughly in her interest against all competitors. Here is one source of Philadelphia's greatest weakness. It is a difficulty which no wandering quack will cure, though her citizens appear to be waiting for one to come along and place them on their feet. They have the cure in their own hands, but because of past errors it will be expensive. In the first place, they must confess to themselves the nature of the complaint. Philadelphia to rise to something better than "a country town, with fifteen or twenty thousand inhabitants," must cease to be a way station, and become the actual base of railroad competition, in the great through business—and she must have ocean steamers. Inland commerce will never flow where it meets not foreign commerce. Both must be accommodated and competed for.

—But our purpose to-day was to introduce the remarks of the Ledger on Philadelphia, which prove that a "realizing sense" is getting abroad there. We quote as follows:

"Philadelphia, proud as we all feel of it, and much as we all love it, is marked by a conspicuous fault well known to us all, but to which little or no effective means are applied by way of remedy. The fault referred to is the failure of the city to assert itself, to make itself thoroughly known everywhere and on all occasions, to have its able representative men present at all opportune times in other cities and places, to make itself heard and felt in proportion to the city's undeniable importance—in a word, to 'exploit' itself, as the French people express the idea. We all know how little is heard of Philadelphia after we pass the western boundary of the State, and how Philadelphians are mortified when they see the name of their populous and prosperous city obscured in small and insignificant letters on the railway signboards of the West, or sandwiched between the names of Allentown and Harrisburg, or New Haven and Boston, as if it were an inconsiderable country town, with fifteen or twenty thousand inhabitants. That such things occur, is the fault of our own people. They seem to have fallen into the idea that certain manufacturing, special trade and business must be done in Philadelphia, and must surely come here without any effort to draw it, and everything else may be left to drift which ever way chance may take it, or to be seized and carried elsewhere by the first wide-awake, enterprising merchant or citizen of some other place who encounters it. The same fault characterizes the rest of the State. Neither the city nor the State has occupied the prominent position in business affairs it is entitled to, at any time in the last forty or fifty years. The importance of either is only recognized in the affairs of party politics, which are the least important affairs, as managed in this country, to which great communities can give their time and attention. But the Philadelphia and Pennsylvania way is not the way of other great Atlantic cities and States. They make themselves heard, felt and known by every means, everywhere, and all the time. No matter whether they are so situated that certain classes of business, or the trade of certain localities must come to them or not, they go after other classes of business, strive to get the trade of other localities, and they secure it too, and sometimes divert it from the natural routes into the most extraordinary and unnatural channels. It would be almost impossible to prevent New York from being the seat of an immense commerce just as it would be difficult to prevent Philadelphia from being the seat of a vast manufacturing industry; but New York is not satisfied with commerce alone, much less to let commerce drift into her lap, but her merchants and aggressive business men drive into all pursuits, and are becoming formidable rivals to Philadelphia, even in some of our own special manufactures. They do this by an incessant effort, always advertising themselves, being ever watchful and everywhere present in person, or by having everybody talking about them, their doings and their commodities."

"PURITANICAL IGNORANCE."

In the manly and masterly discourse of Dr. MEINERZHAGEN delivered on Tuesday at the HUMBOLDT celebration, and published in translation in our Wednesday's paper, a remark is found which we have intended to make the subject of comment, but have hitherto been prevented from doing so by the pressure of other topics. The words which stand at the head of this article will suggest to our readers the remark to which we refer. The learned discourser gives us to understand that he considers Puritanism as exerting a highly deleterious influence upon intellectual development in this country, and confidently predicts the coming of a time when this malign power, this "destructive mildew," will disappear under "the solar radiance of German science."

We confess to unfeigned surprise as the effect produced in us by the reading of this remarkable passage in the discourse. Our surprise could hardly have been greater, if the orator had told us that the bane of this age and country is the belief in witches, or in the fascination of the evil eye. We are quite ready to admit that in certain circles of American society, the religion in vogue is tainted, or if a less offensive word be preferred, is marked by certain characteristics which, in the absence of a more precise term, may be described collectively as possibly a remnant of Puritanism. This, we say, even while holding that the Puritans of history were the redeeming men and women of righteousness, amidst an evil generation. They accomplished the ends for which they were appointed, and their works follow them in the freedom and lofty principles of the Anglo-Saxon people. Even the Puritan of satire, "the solemn man with his sombre and sad features, who talked through his nose and wore plain clothes, and seemed the forlornest of creatures," has vanished from the earth quite as utterly as the megalonyx; and it is only occasionally that we are reminded of his type of character by the misapplication of his name—of which we are compelled to say that Dr. MEINERZHAGEN affords us the latest example.

The fact seems to be that the Doctor applied the term in a somewhat hap-hazard manner to denote nearly the same reproach which in his native land is conveyed by the words Pietismus and Frommelei. For two hundred years or more we know that in Germany the manifestations of the religious sentiment which these words designate, have borne the reproach, at least among the exclusively literary and scientific classes, of being antagonistic to intellectual progress. But Dr. M. is certainly mistaken if he supposes that this type of religion seriously interferes with the intellectual development of the people of this country. Whether there be much or little piety among us, there is surely a minimum of pietism, for reasons existing in the character and the circumstances of our people—reasons which will not escape the Doctor's sagacity on a few moments' reflection.

But is it possible that in his fling at "Puritanic ignorance," that when he characterizes it as a "destructive mildew," Dr. M. alludes to the zeal and persistence with which a considerable portion of our people contend for a rigorous observance of the Sunday under the name of Sabbath? Can it be that he was thinking with philosophic disapprobation of those mistaken men among us who deny that lager beer is the true vital elixir, and that the chief pleasure, if not the chief end of man, is to drink it? We trust not. If he was so thinking, however, we must again express our—amazement.

We are enemies neither of good beer nor of those who imbibe it with moderation. But we cannot admit that universal abstinence from the use of this inspiring beverage would in the least injuriously affect the intellectual development of either the German, or the American people.

Again; we are not advocates of a Scottish Sabbath for this country, nor do we believe that it is destined to be the Sunday of our future social state. We are of opinion that its cause is sometimes supported among us by injudicious means, and often maintained with a greater display of dogmatism than of either sound knowledge, or christian charity. Alas! too, that we are compelled in candor to say, that it is frequently assailed with a rancor, an ignorance, a recklessness of reason and a forgetfulness of man's moral nature, which are far from exciting our admiration. So much we concede on both sides.

But then to return to our German orator. May he pardon us for the monstrous assumption that, in his fling, he, a philosophic scholar, intended an allusion to this vexata quæstio. For the sake of placing the question in an intelligible form, let us make a violent supposition. Suppose the American people unanimously agreed to observe one day in seven in the manner in which our strict religionists desire to see Sunday kept. Each reader can readily fill out the picture. And, let each reader recollect that a considerable portion of this ideal Sabbath would be devoted to the perusal and interpretation of the Bible, either in the grand old version of KING JAMES, or in the noble version of MARTIN LUTHER, which Dr. M. so eloquently characterized in his address. Let the reader consider the character of that volume, if he pleases, quite apart from its alleged inspiration. Let him remember what LOCKE, NEWTON, FRANKLIN and Sir WILLIAM JONES said of the book. Let the German reader remember HEINRICH HEINE's deliberately expressed opinion of it, and also the remark of GOETHE, that he was unable to conceive of an advance in science and civilization which should outstrip the religious and aesthetical standard of the New Testament. We quote by memory from "the Conversations with ECKERMAN." We believe the language is stronger than we represent it. Then reflect also on the intellectually refining effects of even an hour's meditation once in a week upon the sublime subjects of man's immortality and relation to GOD. Can any philosopher, can any student of human nature, for a moment, believe that such discipline, or such a mode of spending Sunday is less favorable to intellectual development than is the manner of spending it prevalent on the continent of Europe?

Though we have written more than we intended, we cannot close without reminding our German friends of the injustice they habitually do, and of the lack of information they habitually display in ignoring the fact that the Sunday contended for by intelligent Rigorists is the Sunday of England. It is not, as they ignorantly pretend, "a backwoods religious theory," nor is it a Puritan dogma which they so eagerly combat. The decent observance of Sunday which we advocate, is a heritage which we derived from "old England," the land of universities and scholars. When we battle for one day in seven as a sacred time, we recognize as our allies in the past, not the Pietists of Germany, or the Puritans of our mother island. These all contended for more than we desire. But we honestly and confidently believe that no earnest student of history or manners, that no enlightened philanthropist, that no candid person who has observed society on both sides of the Atlantic, can hesitate to resist by all legitimate means every attempt to convert our American Sunday into a common day. In other words, we desire to prolong in this country that mode of observing the first day of the week, which still finds powerful advocates in men of such different characters and opinions as W. E. GLADSTONE and JOHN BRIGHT—and which still finds its sanction in the general sentiment of both the English and American peoples.

GOV. MORTON was too ill to keep his engagement to speak in Philadelphia on Thursday evening.

THE Avondale Relief fund is likely to reach $200,000. It is to be entrusted to an association composed of prominent citizens of Plymouth, Scranton and Wilkesbarre.

THE Atlantic Monthly does not contain what many will look for, an article from Mrs. Stowe on the Byron question. She is understood to be husbanding her resources and gathering new material.

THE correspondent of the Boston Post says "it is evident that Secretary Rawlins intended to express some desire as to his successor before he died, and if he had lived until the President arrived, would undoubtedly have recommended Senator Morton, of Indiana."

WM. Penn's old family carriage has come into the possession of the Michigan Central Railroad. The relic is over one hundred and sixty years old. A gentleman of Jackson, Mich., either purchased or fell heir to it, but on its arrival he failed to pay express charges, and so the company took possession in default.

THE English mind is proverbially dull, but the guess put forth by the Times that the negotiations for the purchase of Cuba failed either because the American Government offered too little for it, or owing to the belief that the Island would eventually gravitate to the Union without money and without price, offered nothing is nearer the truth than the Times usually comes. The American faith in the laws of gravity dispenses with negotiations.

THE New York Book Trade sale commenced on Thursday of this week, and will continue one week. It is quite impossible to estimate with any accuracy the immense number of books which will be brought under the mallet of the auctioneer during these seven days; but a rough calculation goes to show that about 20,000 volumes must change hands, as the committee has adopted this year the rule that all invoice books are to be sold without reserve.

HON. S. S. COX, who was a witness of the international boat race, and who "saw it to perfection," whatever that means, adds his mite of testimony to the fairness of the Oxford crew. According to this witness "perfect fair play was shown, and it was said that at one point the Oxfords might have shown foul play, but nobly refrained from doing so." Good boys. Until now we never knew what was comprehended in genuine nobility.

THE sugar crop of Cuba for the present year is estimated at 3,313,000 boxes of 450 pounds each. The molasses crop will amount to 385,000 hogsheads. Notwithstanding the distressed condition of the country, the actual amount produced this year will be about seven-eighths of the total product of last year. The smallest yearly exportation of saccharine productions during the past ten years amounted to 2,430,000 boxes, valued at $35,000,000. A careful estimate of saccharine products, tobacco, wax, cocoa, dyewoods, &c., of Cuba, places the total at $80,000,000.

IT is intimated, and with some show of truth, that Minister Motley is dissatisfied with his instructions. It is stated authoritatively that the temper of the British Ministry is decidedly favorable towards reopening negotiations for the settlement of the Alabama claims. It is barely possible that Minister Motley's ambition would be gratified by perfecting a treaty that would immortalize his name—that was his predecessor's weakness—but a good diplomat should resemble a good soldier in one respect at least: He should be able to restrain himself when the exigencies of his service require it.

Crawford County Agricultural Fair.

A correspondent at Conneautville, Crawford county, writes as follows: "The Seventeenth Annual Fair of the Crawford County Agricultural Society will be held in this place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, September 29th and 30th, and October 1st. Entries are being made in greater variety and larger numbers than in any previous year. Over four hundred have already been made, and the indications give promise of the best exhibition of articles and larger attendance of people than the Society has ever had. The crops in this section have been unusually good with the single exception of corn, which will not be more than a third of an average crop."

FULL details of the battle of Los Tunas, the last engagement that shed "an imperishable lustre on Spanish arms," shows that the loss of the Cubans was between 200 and 300. The loss of the Spaniards was greater than that of the Cubans, and was really the result of a conflict in which they fought for their lives. Had they been able to effect their escape, or thought that mercy would have been shown them, the loss of life on either side would have been lessened. In the assault on Los Tunas, the Cubans proved that they were animated by courage. The conflict was characterized by the boldest heroism, and will be viewed as the most significant engagement that has occurred between the contending forces battling for the possession of the island.

General Butler tells the following good story: While he was in command at New Orleans, a native of Louisiana was observed one day by a wag reading a staring placard on a wall in a public street: "Buy your shirts at Moody's." The reader inquired of the wag what that meant. "Oh," said the joker, in a solemn tone, "that is one of the edicts of the tyrannical Butler." The Louisianian remarked, "But I don't want any shirts." "Well," said the wag, "you'd better buy a few. It is the safest course to comply with the order; for Butler is a perfect despot, you know." So the frightened Creole sought out Moody, and bought a quarter dozen shirts. In due time a Paris paper arrived at New Orleans, in which the facts were narrated, as proving that Butler was both tyrannical and mean—using his power to compel citizens to buy shirts of one Moody, who was undoubtedly his partner!

THE case of Henry Frothingham, a wealthy citizen of New York, who was confined in the Bloomingdale Insane Asylum for several months by his brother, has been decided in a summary manner by Judge McCunn. A writ of habeas corpus having been served on the Superintendent of the institution, that gentleman deemed it advisable to liberate Frothingham. Upon the hearing the Superintendent declared that he notified the plaintiff's counsel that his client "was at liberty to go or stay, to suit his convenience." It suited Mr. Frothingham's convenience to breathe free air. Dr. Brown, the Superintendent, persisted in regarding Frothingham as an insane man; Judge McCunn, who averred that he had known the petitioner for twenty-five years, ever since he was a lad, had never seen any evidence of insanity. This statement produced a remarkable effect upon the Superintendent, who thereupon declared that Frothingham was "fully recovered." New York justice seems to be even more problematical than the quality dispensed elsewhere.

The Cotton Crop.

From a statement taken from the advance sheet of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, it appears that the total receipts at the Atlantic and Gulf shipping ports this year have been 2,120,428 bales cotton against 2,240,282 bales last year. Following is the crop statement for the two years:

	Year ending September 1. 1869.	1868.
Receipts at the shipping ports, bales	2,120,428	2,240,282
And shipments from Tennessee, &c., direct to manufacturers	258,611	271,711
Total	2,379,039	2,511,993
Manufactured South, not included above	60,000	82,000
Total cotton crop for the year, bales	2,439,039	2,593,993

The consumption the past year shows a trifling falling off. The great body of spinners are lightly stocked, the total held by them being estimated at 60,000 bales, against 30,000 bales last year. A comparison of the consumption of the past year with that of the preceding year shows that the amount held over this year very nearly approaches the amount held over last year, the difference being only about 6,000 bales. The new year begins with a deficiency in the visible supply of cotton for this country and Europe to the extent of 330,000 bales compared with the amount on hand at the same period of last year.

"The Natural Flow of the Monongahela."

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Several gentlemen have called my attention to an editorial article with the above caption in your paper of the 15th inst., which, under a misapprehension respecting some measurements made by me many years ago, presents the actual and the relative flow of the Monongahela quite differently from my recollection and my present knowledge of it. I made several measurements of the flow in the Monongahela in 1838 below Brownsville; one August 30th gave 12,420 cubic feet per minute; the other September 19th gave 4,500 cubic feet; but Gen. Moorhead, President of the Monongahela Navigation Company, "gauged it on the 1st of October, 1856, when the quantity passing per minute was found to be 1,492 cubic feet. Mr. Charles Stewart, the Engineer, gauged it at the Brownsville Bar, on the 8th of October, when it was 1,365 feet." Charles Ellet, Esq., gave the minimum flow of the Ohio river at Wheeling, September 30th, 1844, about 70,000 cubic feet per minute. At the time when another measurement of the Monongahela, just above Pittsburgh, in 1838, gave 12,000 cubic feet, the flow in the Allegheny as gauged by Major Sanders, was in round numbers 150,000 cubic feet. The streams were then considered to be very low, but they afterwards fell much lower.

Your measurement as given, of the flow in the Monongahela when the marks showed 22 inches, may be correct; but this is very far from representing the minimum flow of the river in its extreme or even ordinary low stages, when all the tributaries from Brownsville to the Youghiogheny are dry at their outlets, and when the quantity from the Youghiogheny is very trifling. It is rare to find both the Allegheny and the Monongahela at the same extreme stage, either high or low, at the same time; but if it is desired to have additional low water measurements of these streams, they can be made this autumn, in case they fall to a very low stage, when the surface of the river may be six inches below the zero of the marks, or two feet four inches lower than at the time of the measurement mentioned in your article, when the marks showed 22 inches.

Very Respectfully, Yours,

W. MILNOR ROBERTS.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church in Mercer County.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

NORTH'S MILL, September 13, 1869.

The Coolspring Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Jackson Center, Mercer county, Pa., for years having felt the need of a larger house of worship, set themselves to the work of erecting a new one. All its members in the spirit of self-denial, with earnestness and commendable zeal, heartily entered into the undertaking. Good neighborship and the cause of Christ procured them some help from the immediate vicinity and the town of Mercer.

The house is built of brick. The roof is covered with slate. Length of the building seventy-five feet; width forty feet; height of main audience room twenty-one feet. The pews are chestnut, oiled and varnished, and the windows are arched, twelve feet high; the pulpit and aisles are carpeted; chandeliers amply light up the room. At eleven o'clock on the 10th inst., an overcrowded congregation awaited the dedicatory exercises. The sermon, full of profound thought and scriptural illustration, was preached by Rev. E. K. Squier, D. D., of Pittsburgh. Rev. J. M. Gallagher, pastor, propounded the questions to the congregation. Rev. J. A. Bowman, of Venango, offered the dedicatory prayer. Rev. S. J. M. Eaton, D. D., (O. S.) of Franklin, and Rev. J. W. McCune, (O. S.) of Coolspring, assisted in the exercises. Rev. Mr. Reed, of the Springfield United Presbyterian, and several other ministers, were present. The building cost about eight thousand dollars. The pastor and congregation had the pleasure of seeing the remaining part of the expense (about $700) raised just before the dedicatory prayer.

Dr. A. G. Egbert, who has become accustomed to giving in a princely manner for the erection of churches, has the thanks of all concerned. He gave to the church over $3,000. Often may pastor and people experience the outpouring of God's Spirit in this house.

Gold Loan.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay 7 per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation now earns more than enough net income to pay the interest on the new loan. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. Principal and Interest payable in Gold. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. Pamphlets, Maps and Circulars furnished on application.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The Pope has been lately spending money with a liberal hand. He has constructed at his own cost some new roads in the Province of Viterbo, built new walls round the little town of Nettuno, and gave a large sum toward the endowment of an institution for blind children, the foundation of which is announced in a circular from the Minister of the Interior.

There is an active business on Lake Superior this season. Numerous public works, that require many laborers, are going up. At the points where good prices are paid labor is abundant. At some places labor is so poorly paid that it makes itself scarce. The Portage Lake Canal, two miles long, 200 feet wide, and 13 feet deep, is in progress. It has a land grant of 400,000 acres. Some of the copper mines are productive.

There are between 15,000 and 20,000 vagrant children in New York. These children are to be found everywhere. Keen, quick, alert and vicious, they are ready for mischief of any sort, and their delight is of petty depredations. They flee from the scene of crime so rapidly that they are with difficulty traced, and they conceal themselves so cleverly that it becomes almost impossible to discover them. Bold and mendacious, they have the effrontery to do anything, and they will lie out of the scrape with an ease and pertinacity that is almost charming, and which readily impose on the unwary.

A Hartford four-year old saw his parents preparing for church, and he asked them to take him along with them. He was told that he was too little and must wait till he should grow bigger. "Well," he returned, "you'd better take me now, for when I get bigger I may not want to go." The parents saw the point—he was taken.

POLITICAL.

Comparing the returns from the seventeen cities and towns of Maine first received by telegraph, we find that the falling off in the Democratic vote is much greater than that of the Republican party. Last year the vote in these towns stood 12,963 Republican and 8,484 Democratic. Now it stands 8,002 Republican, including 828 votes cast for the Temperance ticket, and 4,066 Democratic. This shows a Republican falling off of less than one third, and a Democratic reduction of more than one-half.

Pendleton is incorrigible. He not only holds on to his greenback theory of paying the public debt, which even Butler has given up, but he goes against negro suffrage, Chinese immigration, and the fifteenth amendment generally. He is consistent in this, but not very prudent, for scarcely more than half of the Democrats will go with him on either of these issues. He puts himself in direct opposition to John Quincy Adams, Rosecrans, and the most sensible of the Southern Democrats, thus driving them to support somebody else for President.

It is said that Gen. Robert Williams will be chosen as one of the Senators of Virginia by the newly elected Conservative Legislature of that State. Such an event would constitute another revolution in the affairs of the Ancient Dominion. Gen. Williams is a gentleman of high character, clear intelligence, and solid judgment; but his whole active life has been passed in the military service of the country.

A special from Little Rock, Ark., says the Republican members of the Legislature held a meeting at which resolutions were adopted for the formation of a Liberal Republican party on the basis of universal suffrage and universal amnesty. A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions and take other measures for the completion of the organization. The committee published a call for a State Convention to meet on the 13th of October to carry out the purposes of the meeting.

Senator Brownlow has published a card stating that he has disposed of his interest in the Knoxville Whig, but that paper will continue to support the Republican cause. He says so many Union men in Tennessee have gone astray that he would advise his Northern friends to accept the Tennessee Republicans for what they are worth at present. The Press and Times, the Senter organ at Nashville, is advertised for sale.

PERSONAL.

Gen. W. S. Hillyer, the only surviving member of General Grant's first staff, and who enjoyed the most intimate friendship of General Rawlins, purposes writing the life of the late Secretary of War, having in his possession a large collection of letters and documents which will enable him to enter into the details of the war record of the deceased.

Francis Kurowski, formerly Colonel of the Polish Lancers of the first Empire, Chevalier of the Legion d'Honneur, Medal of St. Helena, Chevalier of the Polish order Virtute Militari, lately died at the hospital (Hotel Dieu) in Paris, aged one hundred and five years. The Polish committee published notices of his death and announced the date of his funeral. Nevertheless, his remains were consigned to the fosse commune, and he was followed to the grave by a few old comrades. The Siecle remarks that the case shows sad forgetfulness or great ingratitude of the friends of the first and second Empire.

Chief Justice Chase and his daughter are on a visit to Philadelphia. They are guests of Jay Cooke, Esq., at his magnificent mansion, Chelten Hills. On Tuesday of this week the Chief Justice and Mr. Cooke enjoyed a sailing and fishing excursion at Beesley's Point, New Jersey.

Mme. Olympe Audouard, fancying herself aggrieved by an article in the Figaro, has challenged M. de Villemessant to fight a duel. Lest any lingering delicacy for her family should deter the critic, she lets him know that he may shoot her if he can, seeing that she is a widow and has neither father nor brother. The Madrid correspondent of the Independence Belge, writing on the 24th of August, says that a new journal has appeared in the Spanish capital entitled the Guillotina. The conductors recommend the permanent establishment of a scaffold upon the public places of the principal towns in Spain and the execution of many of the inhabitants.

NEW PAINT.
To Dealers and Consumers of Paint.
Harris Patent Paint
Fire and Weather Proof,
LETTERS PATENT JULY 3, 1866.
Is an entirely new article, produced under Letters Patent granted to JOS. B. HARRIS, in the United States and Great Britain.
It is as near AN ABSOLUTE NON-CONDUCTOR OF HEAT as can be produced, and as far superior to all other so-called FIRE-PROOF PAINT,
As Pure White Lead is to Byraties. It spreads fifty per cent. more (while costing 25 per cent. less), than the best White Lead, does not blister or peel, and is entirely free from the poisonous character of Lead and other Paints. The material from which this Paint is produced has never been used in commerce before, and is an additional illustration of the wise economy of nature. All that is asked is
A FAIR TRIAL,
And to that end we offer it to the public, CHALLENGING COMPETITION AS TO ECONOMY, DURABILITY, PROTECTION FROM FIRE, as well as ease and comfort to the Painter working and using this Paint. ☞Liberal Discount to the Trade.

EDUCATIONAL.

APOLLO INSTITUTE
No. 80 FOURTH AVENUE.
JAMES M. MACRUM, Principal; MARY F. MACRUM, Assistant. This School will re-open on MONDAY, September 6th, at 9 A. M.
Parents seeking a School where their sons and daughters will be carefully and tenderly instructed and educated, so as to prepare them, as soon as consistent with health of body and mind, for the duties and responsibilities of life, are respectfully requested to examine the claims of this School. The Principal, who was formerly editor of the Gazette of this city, is well known to many esteemed citizens; several of whom advised him, on his return from a two years' sojourn in Europe, to resume his profession of teaching. This he decided to do, the rather as he could thus best attain what he much desired—an opportunity to take charge of the education of his own children, in the School Room as well as at home.
For statement of the system of instruction synopsis of the course in the primary, intermediate and senior classes of the English, Classical and Scientific departments, terms, testimonials, etc., see Circular, which will be mailed on application to the Principal, who may also be seen at the School, Apollo Building, Fourth avenue, between Wood and Market, during the first week of September, from 10 A. M. to 12 M. Circulars may also be had at the American Bank, 80 Fourth avenue; Macrum, Glyde & Co.'s, Market street, and Macrum & Carlisle's, Fifth ave. TThs

CITY MATTERS.

THE GERMAN BAPTISTS.

Nineteenth Annual Session of the Eastern Conference.

The pastors and delegates of the German Baptist Churches in the East, are at present holding their nineteenth annual session in the Joseph Street Church, East Birmingham—Rev. R. Otto, pastor.

The session was opened with a sermon by Rev. G. A. Shulte, of Buffalo, N. Y., on Wednesday evening.

The reports from the different churches connected with the body, show an addition of 197 by baptism, and 19 by death since October last.

The work represented by this conference had its rise in this State, when Rev. K. A. Fleishman, deceased, began to work as a missionary in Lycoming county, when the first German Baptist Church in the United States was organized. Nineteen years ago the conference was organized in Philadelphia. It represented five churches. Their future seemed dark and unpromising, yet under the blessing of God they increased and prospered, until they now number 32 churches, with a membership of 2,842, while in the Western Conference, an outgrowth of this, there are 36 churches numbering 2,073 members.

The meeting was called to order Thursday morning by the Rev. Mr. Shulte.

Rev. J. S. Gubelman, of Philadelphia, and Rev. C. Bodenadir, of Berlin, Canada, were chosen Moderators; and Rev. G. S. Shulte and J. C. Grimmell, Secretaries. The business was then proceeded with, and was interspersed with devotional exercises.

In the evening sermons were preached by Rev. [illegible] Koopman, of Cleveland, and Rev. H. Miller, of Parkersburg.

The session yesterday was mainly occupied in hearing and discussing the report on Missions. There are four missionaries in the field, sustained by the body, and the treasurer has a small balance on hand, which shows the promptness of the members in supporting this branch of the church. It has been suggested to combine this mission with the English Home Mission Society, which awaits the further action of the body. Need is felt for a permanent evangelist, to represent the German interest before the American churches throughout the land, with a view to counteracting the evils incident to German rationalism and infidelity. This can only be done by elevating the religious and moral standard of the masses.

A Powerful Punch.

Messrs. Lewis, Rossiter & Co., founders and manufacturers of chilled rolls and all descriptions of mill machinery, yesterday shipped to Tennessee the largest punching machine ever made in this city. This is saying a great deal when it is remembered that the fish-bars used in nearly every railroad in the country has created a demand for some of the largest punches ever made in this country, and Pittsburgh has made her fair share of these. The punching machine made by Lewis, Rossiter & Co. weighs very nearly twelve tons and has a wrought iron shaft nine inches in diameter. An experienced mechanic pronounced the machine capable of punching a three-inch hole through a plate of cold iron an inch thick. Fancy the power employed to punch a hole three inches in diameter through cold iron one inch thick! The arrangement for tightening up the shaft as the journal brass wears, is the greatest improvement introduced in a machine of this character, consisting of a ring, or sleeve of gun metal (not brass), having a cut taken longitudinally through it. The working, or head end of the shaft revolves in this brass, and as it wears, a large key, which is driven immediately under and across the journal, springs the sleeve together, tightening it in the easiest and most perfect manner. The improvement cannot fail to attract the attention of mechanics to this enormous machine.

Concert and Tableaux.

A large and respectable audience assembled on Thursday evening at the commodious hall of the Central Passenger Railroad Company to witness the concert and tableaux given for the benefit of the Minersville Presbyterian Church. Through the liberality of the President and Directors of the road, the hall was placed at the disposal of the managers of the entertainment free of charge, and every aid and courtesy extended by them to make the performance a success.

Long before the hour of opening, the Hall was filled to its capacity. The Allegheny Quartette Club, (which had consented to give its aid to the enterprise gratis,) delighted the audience with their humorous and sentimental selections, and fully sustained the high reputation which they hold in their capacity. The performances of the Minersville Choir of the Presbyterian Church were alike creditable, and elicited frequent applause. We cannot speak too highly of the tableaux, suffice to say they were excellent and reflect the highest artistic credit on all concerned therein.

The Superintendent of the road had special cars to convey the audience to and from the city. The proceeds netted over two hundred dollars. Altogether the entertainment was a decided success, and the audience would be gratified to see it repeated sometime during the Fall and Winter.

The Beautiful Foundling—New Bidders and the Sale Postponed.

We stated yesterday that several well-known citizens were anxious to adopt the beautiful foundling left in the door of Wm. Frank & Son's warehouse, on Water street, Saturday night, and that they had agreed to have the babe put up at auction and sold to the highest and best bidder this evening—the money realized to be placed at compound interest for the benefit of the child when it arrives at the age of eighteen. Since then, two prominent bidders have entered for the prize—"J. C.," an influential dry goods dealer of Allegheny City, and "A. A. C.," a man of means who is employed in a wholesale grocery on Wood street. The former has been married ten years, has no children, and having plenty of cash considers his chances better than any of the rest. His bid, we believe, is $800 thus far, but so eager is he to procure the babe, reputed to be the handsomest in Allegheny county, that he may "come down" considerably more. The time for the sale has been postponed until this day week, in order that more bidders may have a chance.

Health of the City.

Dr. Whitmer Snively, Physician to the Board of Health, reports thirty-five deaths during the week ending September 11th, of which fifteen were adults and twenty children. The diseases are as follows: Old age, 1; accident, 1; apoplexy, 1; asthma, 1; icterus, 1; cirrhosis, 1; pulmonary oedema, 1; anaemia, 3; nephritis, 1; pertussis, 1; puerperal fever, 1; eclampsia, 1; tumor of liver, 1; meningitis, 2; enteritis, 1; pneumonia, 1; cerebral congestion, 1; typhus fever, 1; scarlet fever, 1; tuberculosis, 2; cholera infantum, 6; still born, 5. There were sixteen under the age of one year, and the ages of the balance are variously stated at from two to ninety. There were twenty-one males and fourteen females; thirty-four white and one colored.

Attractions of Our City.

It is well to point out to strangers, and even our own citizens, some of the attractions of our city. With this object in view we would recommend our readers to call and see the many new and beautiful designs in carpets, which have just been imported direct from Europe, by Messrs. Oliver McClintock & Co., 25 Fifth avenue. We do not see how time could be more pleasantly passed than in inspecting these exquisite patterns, all of the latest styles. We would also call attention to their advertisement in another column, setting forth more fully their ability to please the taste of their customers, as well as to meet their views in regard to low prices.

BOARDING HOUSE ROBBERY.—The boarding house of John McCambridge, corner of Penn and Seventeenth streets, Tenth ward, was robbed yesterday morning between eight and nine o'clock. The trunks of every boarder in the house were broken open and clothing carried off to the amount of over $300. The supposed robbers are two young men who came to board with Mr. McCambridge about a week, and who did not work any during their stay there. They left suddenly yesterday morning, and shortly afterwards the robbery was discovered. The whereabouts of the men referred to are at present unknown.

TEMPERANCE MEETING AT WILKINSBURG.—There was a meeting of the friends of the temperance reform movement at Wilkinsburg, on Thursday night, which was presided over by Mr. Isaac G. McFarland, assisted by Messrs. John Dickson, Rev. Wm. D. Blackburn, David Dickson, Rev. S. M. Henderson, Henry Swift and Dr. John Sample as Vice Presidents, and Luke B. Davidson as Secretary. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. George Finley, Dr. David Kirke, Dr. Sample and Rev. Mr. Henderson. At the close of the meeting a number of names were handed in as additions to the Executive Committee.

ARREST OF A PICKPOCKET.—Officer Scott, of Mayor Drum's police, yesterday arrested a young man named George Kagle, on suspicion of being the pickpocket who stole five dollars from a lady in the Allegheny Diamond Market last week. At the hearing before Mayor Drum, the lady identified Kagle as the thief, and he then confessed, saying that he had only been out of the Penitentiary two months, could not obtain work, and so was driven to pocket picking for a livelihood. He was committed for trial in default of five hundred dollars bail.

REPUBLICAN EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.—Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Republican County Executive Committee was held in the Common Pleas Court Room.

The Committee on Speakers reported that Hon. Wm. D. Kelley could be secured for the campaign. J. N. Coursin, of McKeesport, was added to the Committee.

Several bills were presented and ordered to be paid. After the transaction of some other business of no public importance the meeting adjourned.

PERSONAL.—Lieut. C. J. Powers, of the Fourth United States Cavalry, returned a few days since from Minnesota, where he has been staying for several months for the benefit of his health. He will remain at the residence of his father, R. J. Powers, Esq., in this city, for a few days, after which he will leave for Texas to join his regiment. His numerous friends will be pleased to hear that his health has greatly improved and that there is hope of his final recovery.

IMPLICATED IN A ROBBERY.—Charles Gilson, the young man arrested and sent to the Work House yesterday, to serve out an unexpired term of fifteen days, will be brought down today for a hearing on a charge of being implicated in the robbery of Mr. Ebbert's clothing store in the Ninth ward on Tuesday night. Gilson, it is said, had one of the coats stolen from Mr. Ebbert's establishment when arrested yesterday.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN TEMPERANCEVILLE.—Justice Hollingshead, on Thursday, held an inquest upon the body of a laborer named John Samuels, employed in the glass house of Messrs. Fahnestock, Albree & Co., who was fatally injured by accidentally falling from a load of straw. The jury found that death had been caused by dislocation of the spinal column.

THE BANQUET TO THE MASTER MECHANICS.—The banquet given at the Monongahela House, on Thursday night, by the manufacturers of Pittsburgh to the railway master mechanics of the United States, was a grand affair. Gentlemen of decided taste have pronounced it the finest entertainment of the character ever given in this city. Mr. Crossan excelled himself on this occasion.

COAL MINERS MEETING.—A meeting of the coal miners in this vicinity will be held at Levi Lewis's on Grant street this morning to take action in reference to the sufferers by the great calamity at Avondale. See advertisement elsewhere.

SEWER CONTRACTS.—East Birmingham Council met last evening and awarded contracts for the construction of several sewers in the borough.

J. H. WARNER, 65 Fourth avenue corner Market street, will open fall hats and bonnets in his retail department Tuesday, September 21st.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Court of Quarter Sessions—Judge Mellon.

The following business was transacted in this court yesterday:

In the case of John Andersen indicted for rape the jury failed to agree upon a verdict and were discharged.

In the case of John Keyser tried for keeping a ferocious dog, the jury found a verdict of guilty. Keyser was sentenced to pay one dollar and costs.

Joseph Stewart was arraigned for the larceny of a quantity of shoes, Henry Vagner prosecutor. The offense was alleged to have been committed in Allegheny city several weeks ago. A verdict of guilty was rendered.

Robert Early was tried for larceny, found guilty and sentenced to four months imprisonment in the county work house.

James Freel was tried for larceny by bailee, and a verdict of not guilty rendered.

The next cases tried were those of Ellen Hemp and Mary Alexander. Cross suits for assault and battery. The parties resided some distance out Fifth avenue. The jury found a verdict of guilty in both cases, and the parties were sentenced to pay the costs in both cases.

George Holmer was tried for assault and battery, J. A. Lippert prosecutor. The offense was alleged to have been committed on Fifth avenue, near Oakland, on the 13th of July last. The difficulty arose from a remark that the prosecutor made about a friend.

A DIGRESSION.

A. W. Foster, Esq., appeared for the Commonwealth and David Bruce, Esq., for the defense. In addressing the jury, Mr Foster spoke of the locking up of cattle by the city police as one of the disadvantages of annexation to the city of Pittsburgh. The speaker's cow had been taken up by the Mayor's police a few days before, and he had to get an order from the Mayor to obtain possession again.

Mr. Bruce objected to this as an outside assertion. There was no proof that the counsel for the prosecution had a cow. It was an outside allegation.

Mr. Foster remarked that it was true nevertheless.

Mr. Bruce would like to ask the gentleman how he ran on his ticket last fall in this district. He was willing to allow the gentleman the largest liberty in discussing the case.

Mr. Foster responded that he was happy to state that he ran ahead of the ticket.

Mr. Bruce was glad to hear this, and presumed the gentleman would do it again. He was happy to give the counsel an opportunity to electioneer.

Judge Mellon said that it was not a matter of importance as both gentlemen belonged to the same party.

Mr. Foster—As for that matter all three of us your Honor. [Laughter.]

The jury found a verdict of not guilty, the prosecutor to pay the costs.

ALLEGED BURGLARY.

John McNerny was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with burglary, C. P. Meskimen, prosecutor. The offense was alleged to have been committed on the 25th of August last, when two coats, a velvet vest, one hat and one pair of pantaloons, and a steel watch chain, the whole valued at sixty dollars. Jury out.

United States Court at Williamsport.

In the United States Court, now in session at Williamsport, Judge McCandless presiding, the following business has been transacted:

In the District Court the case of the United States vs. Wm. Foulds, was continued for trial at Pittsburgh.

Clinton and Rebecca Myers were indicted for passing counterfeit fractional currency. The case was submitted without evidence, and verdicts of not guilty rendered.

The case of the United States vs. Jacob Brown, Jacob Scott, Lewis Scott, Simon Stott, Amelia Simons, Herman Simons, Lewis Simons, Victor Simons and Jacob Smith, all indicted for violations of the revenue law, were continued for trial at Pittsburgh.

Wm. Breen was convicted of passing counterfeit money, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $1,000 and to undergo two years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary.

Jonathan Ritter, (Center county,) convicted of passing counterfeit money, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for one year.

The case of W. A. Holmes, a creditor, vs. B. M. Stetler, bankrupt, being an issue raised by specifications of objections, filed to bankrupt's discharge, was tried, and a verdict rendered "that the facts set forth in the specifications are not true."

The case of Joseph Chase, creditor, vs. L. C. and Marion Berry, bankrupts, a question of law, raised by specifications of objection to discharge, was argued. The question involved is one of importance. The decision of the Court was reserved.

The case of the United States vs. the distillery of James Nelson, Sr., was continued for trial at the October term next at Pittsburgh.

In the cases of the United States vs. the distillery of Edward J. Beyer, and the United States vs. eighteen barrels of whisky, owned by Daniel Mengle, and in which verdicts for the United States had previously been rendered, on motion of the District Attorney, decrees of forfeiture were entered, and writs of sale ordered to be issued.

A petition was filed by McElroy, Dickson & Co., of Pittsburgh, against Emmons & Kaler, of the same place, asking that they be adjudged bankrupts. The usual order was made.

On motion of R. B. Patterson, Esq., Henry Butterfield, Esq., of Erie, of Erie, was admitted a member of the Circuit and District Courts of the United States.

Mass Meeting at Lawrenceville.

The Republicans of Lawrenceville held a rousing meeting on Thursday night, at the old schoolhouse on Forty-third street. John W. Riddell, Esq., presided, assisted by a number of Vice Presidents. John Keil, Jr., and F. N. Garden were chosen Secretaries.

Hon. P. C. Shannon delivered a very effective address, and was followed by Major A. M. Brown in one of his best efforts. Short speeches were made by Col. Thos. M. Bayne and John H. Kerr, Esq. All the speeches were enthusiastically received, and the meeting adjourned with three cheers for Geary and Williams. Lawrenceville will do its duty in October.

BATHING IN DAYLIGHT.—Officer Garrison yesterday arrested Adam Long and John Kearney for bathing during daylight in the Monongahela river. Kearney is about seventeen years of age, and is the lad whom the Mayor committed to the House of Refuge some time ago, but who, as our readers will recollect was afterwards turned loose from that institution for the reason, as stated by the managers, that he was "too bad a boy." He will now be sent to the Workhouse.

NOTICE TO KEEP OUTSIDE.—The practice which certain Attorneys have lately adopted of crowding behind the clerk's desk and constantly occupying the chairs to the annoyance of clerks and reporters has necessitated the posting of the following notice in front of each desk: "Gentlemen; do not take possession of this desk, at least leave some sitting room for the clerk and reporters."

TAKEN TO THE WORKHOUSE.—The following prisoners were taken from the jail to the Work House yesterday: Jacob Kayser, Patrick Campbell, James Phillips, Hugh Flinn, James Barrett, J. Zimmerman, Nicholas Dean, Barney O'Donnel, Wm. Kelley, Charles McFadden, Weimer Gould, John G. Klimer, William Lum, Jacob Abby, Albert Brownlee, Joseph Watt, Fred Faulkner and Charles Gibson.

LECTURE ON SPIRITUALISM.—Dr. Rogers, of Memphis, Tenn., long connected with the Protestant Episcopal Church, and well known for ritualistic tendencies, will deliver a lecture on "Ritualism and Its Effects," on Sunday evening in the basement of St. Paul's Cathedral. Dr. Rogers is a man of fine talent and rare eloquence, and those who hear him will be well repaid.

UNITED STATES PRISONERS.—Three United States prisoners, convicted at the present term of the United States Court at Williamsport, were brought to our county jail last evening. One of them was Richard Breen, who had the "adventure" with the officer on his way to Williamsport two weeks ago. He is sentenced to the county jail for three months.

BODY FOUND—CORONER'S INQUEST.—The body of the lad Willie Kay, who was accidentally drowned in the Allegheny river opposite Sharpsburg on Saturday last, was discovered floating near the bridge in that borough yesterday morning. Coroner Clawson held an inquest, and a verdict in accordance with the facts, already published, was rendered.

THE CONNELLSVILLE BURGLARY.—The motion for a new trial in the case of W. C. Wray, convicted in the Fayette County Court, this week, of burglary, will be argued to-day before Judge Gilmore, and it is probable a new trial will be granted, as we understand the Judge charged the jury that there was sufficient evidence to convict. We shall probably be able to give the decision on Monday.

ARREST OF A FUGITIVE.—Charles Gibson, who was committed to the Work House some days ago by Mayor Brush for thirty days, and who escaped with the well known "Snibbs" Arnold, was arrested by officers McGrady and Galston yesterday, and sent to the Work House to serve out his unexpired term, fifteen days.

RACE TO-DAY.—William Scharff, of the McKee Boat Club, Birmingham, and Jos. Scott, of Manchester, will row a one mile race this afternoon, starting at the Smithfield street Suspension Bridge. The time of starting is fixed at four o'clock, and the race is for a purse of $100.

ACCIDENT.—A little son W. H. McGee, Esq., was severely injured on Wednesday, by being struck on the head with a brick, which fell from the top of a new building in Allegheny. Dr. Hamilton is attending him, and, although his skull is fractured, it is thought the injury will not prove fatal.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Alex. Clark, of the First Methodist Church, this city, is spending a few days in Cincinnati, and will preach at Union Chapel, in that city to-morrow, the congregation over which he had former pastoral charge. He is expected to resume his labors here the following Sabbath.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the friends of the temperance reform movement on Forty-fourth street, Monday evening, at half-past seven o'clock. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. P. Coombs, of Philadelphia, David Kirk, Esq., and others.

THE WATER FLOW ON CENTER AVENUE.—An iron gutter has been placed on Center avenue, at Crawford street, in order that a portion of the water coming down that avenue may be thrown down Crawford street.

MORE CANDIDATES.—Albert Burrel, James Henry and Frederick Faulkner were committed to the Work House yesterday by Mayor Brush for thirty days, on charges of disorderly conduct.

OPEN FOR TRAVEL.—Penn street, between Thirtieth and Thirty-third streets, will be open to travel to-day, the change of grade having been accomplished and the street repaved.

A SOUTHSIDE VAGRANT.—John Matz was committed to jail by Burgess Salisbury yesterday for thirty days on a charge of vagrancy.

PAVED.—Locust alley, Seventeenth ward, has been paved.

GAS MAIN.—A gas main is being laid on Crawford street.

Police Intelligence.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

LARCENY BY BAILEE.

Andrew Knox preferred a charge of larceny by bailee against John Dorrington. The prosecutor alleges that on the first of September there was a horse race and the defendant was stakeholder and walked off with the stakes, failing to turn them over. A warrant was issued.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of John Lippert against whom a charge of assault and battery was preferred by Henry G. Wagner. The parties worked in a glass house in Birmingham, where the offense is alleged to have been committed.

FALSE PRETENSES.

John Fass was arrested and gave bail for a hearing, to answer a charge of false pretenses, preferred by Patrick Ebbit. The prosecutor keeps a house in the Diamond, and alleges that the defendant came into his tavern and stated that he was a dealer in mineral water, and agreed to furnish him a supply, thereby obtaining seven dollars. The prosecutor alleges that he subsequently ascertained that the defendant was a laborer, working for Burgess Ammon, of East Birmingham.

ALLEGED HEAVY DAMAGES.

A Man Arrested and Held to Bail in the Sum of $20,000.

Peter Tatro and Charles W. Williams were on Thursday night arrested on a capias issued from the Prothonotary's office at the instance of J. C. Kirkpatrick & Co., oil dealers of this city. It is alleged that Tatro and Williams came to this city some time ago and represented that they were owners of a process for treating oil by which there was a saving of from eighty-five to ninety-five per cent., and that the alleged improved process could be successfully operated. The firm claim that they invested a considerable amount of money and found that the invention was worthless. Hence a civil action was instituted, and in the case of Tatro bail was required in the sum of $20,000.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—Last evening the Opera House was again crowded by an audience that highly appreciated the elegant entertainment given by the Worrell Sisters. This afternoon a farewell matinee of the Worrells will be given, and the popular burlesque of the "Field of the Cloth of Gold" will be presented. In the evening, on the last appearance of these charming performers, who have for the past two weeks been delighting Pittsburgh audiences, Offenbach's Opera Bouffe, "Barbe Bleue," (Blue Beard,) will be repeated.

OLD THEATER.—The Old Theater is being conducted as usual—most successfully—and the splendid variety entertainment given cannot fail to give general satisfaction. The philanthropic public should remember the benefit for the Avondale sufferers this afternoon. Miss Emma Grattan and Miss Alexandra are received with nightly applause, and Mr. James Taylor, the comic vocalist, is deservedly popular.

THE VARIETIES.—This old and popular place of resort is crowded nightly, and excellent bills are presented and faithfully carried out. The charming and popular songstress, Lillie Beckett, continues to delight large audiences, and the members of the company are unquestionably good.

THE CIRCUS—Ames's New Orleans Circus and Menagerie gives its last exhibition in Allegheny, in the Diamond to-day, and there will undoubtedly be a large attendance, as everybody is pleased with the entertainment afforded. This morning between ten and twelve o'clock a free exhibition will be given to all the orphan schools in this city.

THE DAVENPORTS—Masonic Hall was crowded last night, and the performance given was marvellously wonderful.

THE GREGORIES—The amusement-loving public should not fail to make a note of the fact that the Gregory family will be here on the 20th inst., at the Academy of Music. Seats for any or all the performances can be secured without extra charge at Hoffman & Hale's Opera House Music Store.

THE MUSEUM.—Don't fail, when out on an afternoon or evening stroll, to call at the Museum and look at Maj. Burnell's rare collection of curiosities.

A Universal Fact.

For a long time after Sewing Machines were introduced to the public, it did not require any care or discrimination in selecting one. The best could be obtained without difficulty, inasmuch as there was but one or two in the market to choose from. But now, when the list is augmented to a considerable number, the relative merits of all of which have been published to the world, it becomes the duty of every purchaser to exercise the greatest care and discrimination in selecting one of these family necessities. You may procure a machine the outward appliances of which surpass all others, but it may be sadly defective in its operation, liable to get out of order and lastly, but not the least important, fail to do the work for which it was intended. That there are machines of the character described no one will deny. A machine, therefore, which we can conscientiously recommend to the public, and upon which they can place their reliance is the American Button Hole and Overseaming Family Sewing Machine. It is the first and only machine of the kind before the people, and wherever it has gone thus far it has been hailed with the greatest delight, being pronounced complete in every respect, which is but a fair expression of the worth of the machine. Mr. James Espy, No. 12 Fifth avenue is the agent of the machine in this city, and customers calling on him need have no fears of being turned away dissatisfied, either with the machine or with the prices.

Fine Queensware and Bristolware.

Messrs. S. M. Kier & Co., No. 363 Liberty street, have in store an excellent stock of Queensware and Bristolware of their own manufacture, which they will warrant as equal to any imported wares of the kind now in this market. A Defensive Medicine.

"In time of peace prepare for war," is a sound military maxim. "Let not the sickly season find you unprepared," is an equally good rule in medical jurisprudence. The man must be made of iron who finds himself at the close of summer as strong as at its commencement. Such a phenomenon is rare, even among the most robust of the human family. Muscular and constitutional vigor oozes out of us in the broiling weather of July and August, and few of us at the opening of the fall, are in the best possible condition to defy the unhealthy influences of the season.

Fever and ague and bilious remittent fevers, together with a variety of complaints that affects the digestive organs, the liver and the bowels, form a portion of the Autumn programme. Bear in mind that exhaustion invites these disorder, and that staminal vigor enables the system to repel them. "To be weak is to be miserable," says Satan to his defeated legions, in "Paradise Lost," and the axiom is correct, though it come from an evil source.

Ho! then, ye weak and feeble, fortify yourselves against the invisible enemy that pervades the Autumnal air. The best defense against miasma is a course of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This rare vegetable tonic will improve your appetite, stimulate your digestion, give firmness to your nerves, invigorate your muscular fibre, strengthen your stomach, cheer your spirits, and put your entire physique in perfect working order. It is easily done. The standard tonic and alterative which will recuperate and build you up, is not "bad to take," but, on the contrary, a pleasant medicine.

See, however, that you have the genuine article. There are imitations and counterfeits in the market, and they are all worthless or deleterious. Bear in mind that HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold only in glass (never by the gallon or cask), and that each bottle beers a label surmounted by a vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and our revenue stamp over the cork.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, September 17, 1869.

There was considerable closeness developed in the local money market to-day. As the usual period of tightness is approaching, the banks are manifesting a great deal of caution in the dispensing of accommodations in the way of discounts; and we find that money lenders generally are not as free to let out their money as they were a fortnight ago, and hence the negotiation of loans on time bills is a more difficult task with the brokers.

—The large amount of offerings on the occasion of the purchase of bonds last Wednesday, on the Treasury account, caused a rather heavy decline in prices, and ever since the market has developed a great deal of weakness. There is a manifest weak feeling in the Government loan market in all the large money centers, and were it not for the regular withdrawals from the market on the sinking fund account, there can be no doubt that the heavy supply afloat would have a weakening effect on prices. In our city there appears to be no disposition to invest or speculate in Government bonds, and prices are entirely controlled by Wall street. The New York Post says: We hear a great many complaints from banks at the refusal of the Secretary of the Treasury to receive United States currency bonds (Pacific 6s) as a security for national bank note circulation. These complaints are not confined to the city banks, but appear to be general. The reason for this action of the Secretary is not apparent. The currency 6s are full Government bonds, and in many particulars the best bond of the Government. The interest which they bear (six per cent.) is assured to the holders of the bonds for thirty years, which is a very important consideration, in view of the supposed policy of the Government to replace the gold-bearing bonds by those bearing a lower rate of interest. The currency 6s are also higher in the market at the present time than were the 5-20s when they were first accepted, and the margin on them, it received at 80, would be larger than that on the 10-40s, and about the same as that on the 5-20s according to current quotations.

Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co., report the following quotations of Government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cooke & Co., their correspondents:

—The gold market to-day was held up wonderfully in the face of the general tumble among stocks. It is reported that the bulls are carrying the enormous amount of forty-five millions, which is becoming very heavy on their hands.

—The New York Commercial Advertiser remarks that the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury has been called to the practice of "locking up" greenbacks, adopted by stock speculators, with a view to inducing him to check any efforts in that direction that may be made during the next few weeks. It is thought that Mr. Boutwell has authority to make the $50,000,000 reserve of legal tenders available for that purpose. We are not aware that the Secretary has expressed any opinion or purpose upon the matter.

—Our usual telegrams to-day show a marked decline in stocks. Pacific Mail was particularly week. It is apparent that the bear element is dominant in the market. The Herald says the old professional operators are "short," and until they have covered the fight will be a desperate one between the "bulls" and the street.

The following table, made up from dispatches received at J. W. Kennedy's Stock Rooms, Apollo Building, No. 80 Fourth avenue, shows the prices of Railway Stocks, Gold, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Boards during the day:

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, September 17, 1869.

Trade to-day was fair, but far from active, except in a few branches of the business. There is but little change to note in prices. There is very little life in either flour or grain. We quote as follows, the wholesale store prices, unless otherwise noted:

APPLES—Receipts improving, and prices somewhat lower. Common to fair may be quoted at $1 25@2 25 ⅌ bbl, and good to very choice at $2 50@3 00 ⅌ bbl. Some choice eating apples sell in a retail way at $3 25@3 75 ⅌ bbl, as to quality.

BACON, LARD, ETC.—There is a fair demand. Choice hams are scarce and selling at 21@24½c ⅌ lb. Shoulders are scarce at 16c. Dried beef is quoted at 22c ⅌ lb. Lard in tierces 21c, and in buckets 22 ⅌ lb.

BLACKBERRIES—Sales at $1 00@1 10 for prime to choice.

BEESWAX—A pure article commands 40c, and mixed with grease 30c ⅌ lb.

BUTTER—Receipts good and improving. We quote choice table brands at 32@36c ⅌ lb. The general run of the butter offering is dull at 25@31c ⅌ lb, as to quality.

EGGS—Receipts good with but light receipts. Prices are firm at 21@23c ⅌ dozen for good to extra fresh packed.

LARD OIL—Market moderately active at $1 42@1 45 for No. 1, and No. 2 at $1 05@1 08 ⅌ gallon.

CHEESE—Demand fair and market steady for good grades. We quote Western Reserve at 14c; Hamburg at 14½c; Ohio Factory at 15c; Ohio Goshen 16c, and New York Goshen at 16@17c ⅌ lb.

CHICKENS—By the coop spring chickens sell at 50@55c ⅌ pair, as to size and condition.

CEMENT—We quote Phoenix hydraulic cement at $2 25@2 50 ⅌ bbl, and Johnstown at $2 25.

POTATOES—Irish potatoes retail in the market at 60@70c ⅌ bush for good to choice, with an occasional sale of extra at 75c ⅌ bush. Nothing doing from store. Jersey sweets are in large supply and dull at $5 00@5 50 ⅌ bbl, as to quality.

HAY—From country wagons we quote at $15@20 ⅌ ton.

ONIONS—Market dull at $1 50@2 50 ⅌ bbl, as to quality.

WHISKY—Trade moderate. We quote highwines at $1 21 ⅌ gallon; common rectified, $1 20; proof rectified $1 25 ⅌ gallon; half rye and half corn $1 75; old Monongahela, two years old, $2 25, and old Monongahela three years old, $3 50 ⅌ gal. Very old whiskies are scarce, and sell at high and nominal prices, varying from $5 00@8 00 ⅌ gallon.

PLUMS—Sales at $4 50@5 00 ⅌ bushel for choice to extra.

PEACHES.—Ohio peaches are coming in freely and quoted at $1 25@1 50 ⅌ box. The receipts of Eastern peaches are very small. At present prices are nominal for all kinds, excepting very choice lots. In the Diamond market today some choice baskets sold at $1 00@1 25 ⅌ basket, and some extra assorted brought as high as $4 00@5 00 ⅌ bushel. These were all native fruit and picked in the morning.

PEARS—Sales at $3 50@5 00 ⅌ barrel as to quality.

TOMATOES.—Prime to choice tomatoes commanded to-day in ther market at retail 60@75c. Inferior to common 40@50c ⅌ bushel.

SEEDS—There is but a light stock of timothy seed on the market. In a retail way it is selling at $4 25 ⅌ bushel. Flaxseed may be quoted at $2 45@2 50. Clover seed is not quotable.

SALT—We quote at $1 75 ⅌ barrel by the car load and from store in small lots at $1 90 ⅌ barrel.

FLOUR—Market quiet and dull. The demand at present is very light, and only for very choice brands. Prices are unchanged from our last report. Good to choice winter wheat flour may be quoted at $6 75@7 25 ⅌ bbl., very little selling over the latter figure. Choice to extra spring brands would bring the same price. Low and common grades of flour are entirely nominal in price.

RYE FLOUR—Nothing doing. Prices nominally $6 00@6 25 ⅌ bbl.

CORN MEAL—There is very little inquiry. Sales of kiln dried at $1 00 ⅌ bush for choice.

MILL FEED—The Pearl Mill prices, wholesale, are for bran 90c ⅌ cwt., ship stuff $1 10 ⅌ cwt., and middlings $1 90 ⅌ cwt.

GRAIN—Market continues inactive. There is very little demand for wheat outside the mills, and they are freely supplied with red winter wheat at $1 30@1 35 and white wheat at $1 40@1 45. Oats in the elevator commands 45@46c, and Rye $1 10@1 15 per bushel as to quality. We quote prime yellow shelled or ear corn on the track dull at 95@$1 00 ⅌ bush. Barley is dull and nominal, ranging from $1 12@1 25 ⅌ bush as to quality, and but little selling at the latter figure.

SUGARS—Market moderately active, and prices in the eastern cities advanced for both raw and refined. We quote as follows in this market:

RAW SUGARS—New Orleans, good, 14½c; prime, 14¾c; Porto Rico, good, 14c; prime, 14½c; Cuba good, 13¾@14c; prime, 14c¼; choice, 14¾@15c. Demerara, 15@15½c.

REFINED SUGARS—Hards, 17½c; A, 16½c; B, 16@16¼c; Ex C, 16c; C Yellow, 15½c.

SUGAR HOUSE—[illegible]

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, September 18, 1869.

The oil market yesterday was apparently utterly neglected, not a single transaction having been reported. This was in some measure to be expected, as it was very much excited the previous day, and holders advanced their rates, while buyers in view of the report of large shipments from here were disposed to hold off. This question of shipments was the main topic of discussion. The general opinion was that the shipments of the past four days have been either held back by the railroads, (a thing hardly probably,) or overlooked by the reporters of some of the papers. The result was that a shipment of about six thousand barrels appeared in some of the reports, where really the shipments for the day indicated should only have been about one thousand barrels, had the previous days' shipments been accurately reported each day.

The market during most of the day was very quiet and the bids generally lower, but at the close there was stronger feeling, with better offers than were obtained earlier in the day. The market at the close may be quoted firm and unchanged. Sept 32¾c bid and no sellers; September to December 32¾c and no sales. Crude 14¾@14¾c for spot and September; September to December 14¾@15c. Antwerp reported at 57¼ francs.

Since writing the above and late in the evening the following sales have been reported:

1,000 bbls spot ... 14¾c (contract)
1,000 seller October ... 14¾c
3 cars Parker's Landing ... $5 50

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, September 18, 1869.

The market during the week was firm, with an active demand. The mills are all in active operation, and are making extensive preparations for the fall and winter trade. The shipments of iron and nails since our last were large. The stock of pig iron in the market is not large. Lots are pretty much taken up on arrival, whilst some heavy contracts have been consummated for future delivery. The Erie canal is again in operation, as will be perceived by reference to our receipts of pig iron. We are reported the following sales:

IRON.

IRONTON, OHIO.

The recent rise has enabled shippers to send a large quantity of pigs to consumers, and, says the Journal, we have to note the same scarcity as for some time back with an increasing demand. Prices, at our quotations, are firmly maintained, and an advance confidently looked for.

The receipts for the week foot up 950 tons against 795 tons shipped.

NEW YORK, September 17—P. M.

THE BEAR CAMPAIGN.

On the stock exchange made further havoc with values to-day, and was the great feature of Wall street. The speculative securities were pressed for sale with much confidence by the bears during the morning, and later in the day the bulls became frightened, when stocks were thrown overboard almost without regard to prices. The feeling during the afternoon was gloomy, and for some time the market was bordering on a panic. The shrinkage in values has been enormous, and many stocks touched the lowest point for years past. Reports were freely circulated that the Secretary of the Treasury would yield to the pressure for a change in his policy. Dispatches from Washington say the specie statement made by New York city banks on the 8th inst, shows the gold coin to be about $2,350,000; gold certificates $10,250,000; gold bars $19,000; total, including checks and coupons, $13,250,000. Many rumors are current in regard to the purpose of leading speculators, who may have been prominent in effecting the decline. One of these is that a meeting was held to-day to organize for an upward turn, and that they have this afternoon been buying. On the other hand, it is vaguely rumored that an important failure will occur to-morrow.

MONEY.

The money market is more active, and rates are plump 7 ⅌ cent. on call. There is a large demand for small currency from the interior, but it is next to impossible to supply it, even at a premium on bills of one, two, five and ten dollars. Discounts are very dull, and the best paper only passes at very high rates.

New State	Harlan	Wheeling.

MONONGAHELA—Four feet four inches and falling.

ALLEGHENY marks six feet and falling.

THE marks last evening indicated four feet four inches and falling. The weather during the day was pleasant. The Maggie Hays was receiving liberally. She is announced for this day.

THE far famed passenger packet Belle, Capt. H. H. Sholes, takes her departure this day at 12 M., for Wheeling, Marietta and Parkersburg.

THE far famed sidewheeler St. Marys, Capt. Sweeney, is announced for Cincinnati this day at 12 M. Passengers and shippers will bear this in mind. The first clerk is our friend Morris Dorsie, a clever and attentive officer.

THE name of the monster who made several attempts to murder a deckhand on the Flirt, named Frank Mooner, is John Garrett. As he is at present under arrest it is to be hoped that a small share of justice will be his portion. Let his name be circulated, so that no Captain with any respect for law will have such a man on his boat.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The break at Lock No. 2 will not be repaired before the first of next week. The Pittsburgh, Brownsville and Geneva Packet Company have chartered the steamer Elizabeth to transport freight and passengers to Lock No. 2. Passengers will only be delayed twenty minutes at the lock. The Elizabeth leaves daily at 5 P. M.

R. R. ABRAMS, Superintendent.

THE favorite passenger packet Kenton, Capt. W. H. Kerr (old commodore), takes her departure this day at 4 P. M. for Wheeling, Marietta and Cincinnati. For speed, accommodations and attentive officers this boat stands at the head of the list. We are glad to know that the commodore is in the enjoyment of excellent health. Long may it continue. As usual, the Kenton will have a big trip.

THE first class passenger steamer Maggie Hays, Capt. B. C. Martin, takes her departure on Saturday for Evansville, Cairo and St. Louis. This boat is in the best possible condition, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Passengers who have traveled on this boat speak in very favorable terms of her appointments. The first clerk is Mr. J. S. Dravo, an officer who will take pleasure in making passengers comfortable.

FURTHER particulars in regard to the explosion of the Phantom:

EVANSVILLE, September 15.—The steamer Phantom, Captain H. T. Dexter, from Evansville to Cairo, exploded her boilers at 10 o'clock this morning, at New Liberty, killing George Nicholson, first clerk; William Grammer, barkeeper; John Cooper, second cook; and three passengers. Captain Dexter and the other officers are safe. These are all the particulars yet received.

The death of George Nicholson has cast a deep gloom over this community. He was a brother of Duke Nicholson, and brother-in-law to Fred. Huston, well-known steamboat and railroad agents, and was greatly beloved by all who knew him. William Grammer was the only surviving brother of Captain Jack Grammer, of the Quickstep. John Cooper leaves two orphan sisters, whose grief is heart-rending.

The killed were: George Nicholson, first clerk; William Grammer, bar-keeper; James Atkinson, third cook; Wade Hickman, black, cabin-boy; and two passengers, names unknown.

The injured were: W. P. Matheny, pilot, leg hurt badly; William Barry, second mate, knee badly dislocated; William H. Steele, steward, leg fractured and ankle hurt; Geo. McFadden, express messenger, ankle fractured; Charles Garner, pilot, back hurt slightly; William Beatty, of Evansville, passenger, face badly hurt; Thomas Kelly, deck-hand, face slightly hurt and body bruised; Thomas Conners, deck-hand, ankle badly sprained; J. B. Hart, of Memphis, passenger, nose cut off and body bruised.

The black deck-hands and firemen, who were hurt and scalded, were George Stevenson, Geo. Churchill, John Taylor, Wm. Anderson, James Hammond, Charles Jones, John Jaler, and several others, whose names could not be obtained. Of the hurt three or four will probably die.

The boat and cargo will be a total loss. The boat is said to be worth $8,000. Her owners live here. There is no insurance on her.

The cargo was light, and was partially insured. Captain Dexter had chartered the Phantom. Captain Jack Steath was in command.

The explosion is described by persons on shore as like a tremendous clap of thunder. No person seems scalded, but were either burned or wounded by flying timbers. Captain Bentley, a passenger, says he believes there was no water in the boilers.
